Immigrant Deal Deadline Tonight

OTTAWA (CP)—Midnight tonight is the deadline for backdoor immigrants to apply for resident status.

The deadline, originally set for July 25, was extended by Immigration Minister Marchand after early response to the plan was far smaller than expected.

A spokesman for the immigration department said today that up to Aug. 8, 4,078 persons had applied under the plan since Mr. Marchand announced the policy in the House of Commons July 8.

The department estimates that from 10,000 to 20,000 visitors who want immigrant status are still to be heard from. It has placed advertisements in foreign language newspapers hoping to flush out more.

Of the 4,078 who have applied at the department's offices across Canada for immigrant status, 2,340 were from Ontario and 1,137 from Quebec. The Pacific Coast area contributed 323 more while 248 came from the western provinces. Only 30 came from the Maritimes.

The largest bloc of applications, 923, has come from Greeks, followed by 719 West Indians, 454 Italians, 378 Portuguese, 341 Eastern Europeans, 269 Asians and 108 Germans.

Irregular immigrants who do not meet certain conditions face deportation but the department expects the number of deportations resulting from this special policy to be small.

The conditions: —Visitors - turned - immigrants must not be within prohibited classes listed in the Immigration Act such as criminals, security risks and persons of immoral character.

—They must not have entered Canada by fraudulent means other than by posing as visitors.

—They must fit into one of four categories: They would be acceptable if they applied normally abroad; they married a Canadian on or before July 8; they have established a successful business or have been employed steadily for eight months; they have 10 years' schooling.

Another Crisis Facing Wilson?

LONDON (Reuters) — The Commonwealth prime ministers' conference here next month appears likely to present Prime Minister Wilson with one of his most difficult problems since he took office in October, 1964.

Britain is thought certain to face trenchant demands at the conference from many of the 22 other Commonwealth countries for tougher handling of the issue of Rhodesia, including the use of force to topple Prime Minister Ian Smith's breakaway regime in the central African colony.

Zambia and Tanzania have been joined by India in demanding the use of force against the white-minority regime which seized independence from Britain Nov. 11, 1965.

The task of preparing for the conference, opening Sept. 6, has been handed to Britain's new Commonwealth secretary, Herbert Bowden, 61-year-old former leader of the House of Commons. He took over the post—and its Rhodesia headache—from Arthur Bottomley last Thursday.

A main reason behind Wilson's decision to advance his cabinet reshuffle from the fall to last week was to give Bowden as much time as possible to prepare for what probably will be the most critical prime ministers' conference in Commonwealth history.

Foremost among those claiming that Britain's economic sanctions against Smith's regime have failed is President Kenneth Kaunda of Zambia, northern neighbor of Rhodesia.

ZAMBIA MAY LEAVE
Kaunda has threatened that if Britain fails to end the Rhodesia rebellion soon, he may take Zambia out of the Commonwealth.

Tanzania has already broken off diplomatic relations with Britain over its handling of the Rhodesia crisis and may not even attend his conference.

Negro-ruled African countries are getting strong support from their sister Asian Commonwealth members.

External Affairs Minister Sardar Swaran Singh of India has called for the use of force to topple the Smith regime.

Premier Starts Vote Drive With Details For Home Grants

FERNIE (CP)—Premier Bennett launched his election campaign early here by announcing that couples old enough to vote will be eligible for a $500 home-purchase grant.

He said a week ago he would officially kick off his campaign for re-election Sept. 12 in Campbell River on Thursday. But he turned a speech at a banquet here into an election starter Saturday by divulging details of his previously-announced home buyer program.

Mr. Bennett had already pledged to help couples buy homes and said he would ask the next legislature to approve a $25,000,000 fund to pay for the scheme.

He said the $25,000,000 would only be an initial sum and more would be added to make the home-purchase deal a continuous program.

Any man and wife 19 years old or over who have lived in B.C. for one year and who have never received the annual home owner grant will be able to get $500 outright to help buy a home, Mr. Bennett said.

There will be no income restriction, nor any limit on the value of a home, but the premier said the program will contain provisions to prevent speculation.

It will apply to young couples getting married as well as present renters," he said.

Setting the qualifying age of 19 — the provincial voting age — the premier said, "Why not? If they have a right to vote they have a right to own a home."

New Minister In Saskatchewan

REGINA (CP)—Premier Ross Thatcher today announced appointment of Cy MacDonald as minister of industry and commerce in the Saskatchewan government.

Mr. MacDonald, 38, Liberal MLA for Milestone, lives at Wilcox, where he is a teacher at Notre Dame College.

Mr. Thatcher said the new minister will assume responsibility for the recently-formed Saskatchewan youth agency as well as the industry and commerce department.

98 Killed Across Nation

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

At least 98 persons died in two car accidents across Canada during the weekend, 10 of them in two-car collisions in southern Ontario that each took five lives.

A Canadian Press survey from 6 p.m. Friday to midnight Sunday, local times, showed that 60 died in traffic accidents, 10 were drowned and 19 died in miscellaneous accidents.

SANDI BEAIRSTO was crowned Kelowna's Lady-of-the-Lake Saturday night. The 17-year-old girl won the title in competition with nine other candidates. Miss Beairsto will represent Kelowna during the next year at events here and in Alberta, Washington and other B.C. cities. From left,

A Quiet Talk For Sandi After A Hectic Week

By SUZANNE ZWARUN

Kelowna's newest Lady-of-the-Lake didn't dance until dawn Sunday—instead she went home to bed.

Not that Sandi Beairsto wasn't delighted and excited about being chosen as the 1966 Lady-of-the-Lake. But it had been a long, hard week and Sandi decided to slip home. She and a few close friends spent the evening "talking and talking."

Saturday night ended months of preparation for the contest, the annual contest.

Sandi was the guest of honor at a reception afterwards but she didn't attend the competitor's ball.

The girls were kept in suspense right up to the last moment. As the nine contestants filed onto the stage at the Aquatic grandstand Saturday night, Sandi and her lady-in-waiting, Donna MacDougall, were asked to remain behind.

"We knew then we were the two chosen, but we didn't know which of us was the Lady-of-the-Lake. It was nerve wracking."

Winning the Lady-of-the-Lake title is "terrific," Sandi says.

"I never expected I would be the one chosen, I really felt I'd be the last to win," she says.

Sandi represented the Kelowna Teen Town in the contest. The last Teen Town competitor to win the title was Ruth Gillespie in 1963.

When she awoke Sunday morning, she forgot for a few minutes that she had won the title. "Then it dawned on me with a rush."

The months of training, the exhausting public appearances were all worth the honor, she said.

Sandi is looking forward, but not without nervousness, to her first public appearance as Kelowna's reigning queen. Her first public duties won't likely start until September.

In the meantime, some less glamorous work is in store for Sandi. She is a waitress at the Kelowna Motel during the summer.

Sandi has completed Grade 11 and she plans to attend university and major in fine arts and French.

Drunks, Punks Rule The Streets As Regatta Ends

SOCREDS MEET IN SUMMERLAND

Premier Bennett is expected to stand for nomination today at a Social Credit nomination meeting at 8 p.m. in Summerland. The premier was first nominated as the South Okanagan Social Credit candidate there in 1952.

He is expected to lead a cavalcade of cars into Summerland today.

B.C. voters go to the polls Sept. 12. The meeting is scheduled for the Summerland Parish Hall.

Airlines, Crews Settle

WASHINGTON (AP)—A settlement agreement in the airlines strike was announced today, subject to a vote of approval by 35,400 strikers against five major airlines.

Assistant Labor Secretary James J. Reynolds said in announcing the tentative contract agreement that a vote by the striking members of the International Association of Machinists (IAM-CIO) would be held "possibly and hopefully tomorrow."

Union president P. L. (Roy) Siemiller said meetings of the strikers around the U.S. would be called as soon as possible to explain the terms of the agreement and take a vote to possible end the strike, now in its 39th day.

Terms of the contract agreement were kept secret pending the vote but informed estimates placed the total three-year cost at some $90,000,000, or about eight per cent a year. Top mechanics now make $3.52 an hour, plus fringe benefits that bring a total to around $4 an hour.

Earthquake Toll In New Delhi May Reach 70

NEW DELHI (CP) — More than 70 persons are feared to have died when a three-storey building collapsed during an earthquake and torrential rain here today.

Fourteen bodies were recovered from the ruins of the building in Delhi's old city which collapsed as Prime Minister Gandhi was addressing a nearby meeting marking India's 19th independence anniversary.

Troops helped police and firemen clear rubble under which another 60 persons were feared buried. Three women and five children were among the first 14 bodies dug out.

Twenty-four persons were injured. Mrs. Gandhi told a huge Independence Day crowd that the task of achieving accelerated economic development is more important to India than guarding her frontiers.

Rowdies Hauled Off To Vernon As City Jail Overflows

By TERRY UTLEY

Drunks and hoodlums took over Kelowna Saturday as the 50th International Regatta ended in a mad fiasco.

There were drunks staggering on almost every downtown street with fights breaking out near every beer parlor and in City Park.

There were no riots as police arrested the worst of the lot, others were just sent home or dispersed.

A total of 57 arrests was made and when Kelowna cells were filled 12 were sent to Vernon. On the final night of the Regatta last year there were 38 arrests.

Most of those arrested had out-of-town addresses.

MASS APPEARANCES

In magistrate's court today prisoners were brought up from the cells seven at a time. One youth appeared bare from the waist up.

Charges were mostly for intoxication and causing a disturbance and fines ranged up to $150.

Police said beer parlors were filled to capacity from 11 a.m. to closing at 11:30 p.m. Saturday. Doors were locked when capacity was reached. A doorman threw customers out when they had had enough and admitted those standing in line outside.

Drunks were found sleeping on benches, hanging to sign posts, relieving themselves in public, passed out in City Park and on city streets. Some resisted arrest while others were co-operative. Police said many drunks were arrested "for their own protection."

IN THE SWIM

In one incident a man swam out into the course of the hydroplane races on Okanagan Lake and refused to get into patrol boats. The disturbance lasted a half-hour and the race was held up three-quarters of an hour until police "herded" the man to shore. He was charged with causing a disturbance by using obscene language.

He was fined $100 in magistrate's court today. His lawyer, Homer Robinson said there was no indication of authority in the boats or uniformed men. He said his client didn't know he was on a race course.

A Vancouver youth threw a beer bottle in City Park and hit a young girl. He was arrested and charged with being intoxicated in a public place.

ACCUSES POLICE

One Vancouver youth appearing in court on an intoxication charge said he was "thrown in the drunk tank, beaten and refused a telephone call." The magistrate said he didn't look beaten and fined him $50.

Another youth was spotted by police throwing beer bottles from a car. He was later found in a beer parlor and today was fined a total of $175, for intoxication, minor in a licensed premise and littering the highway.

Chinese Laborers Help Out After Raids Cut Supply Lines

SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. bombing of North Viet Nam has drawn an estimated 50,000 Chinese laborers across the border to keep road and rail supply lines operating, U.S. authorities say.

Authorities also assume that, in addition to the Chinese laborers in North Viet Nam, more may be working to keep the Ho Chi Minh trail through Laos in operation.

Unknown thousands of Vietnamese laborers are involved in maintaining the trail. This is partially due to those segments of the sprawling jungle-covered route that have been provided surfaces hard enough for trucks.

At one time, almost 20,000

Chinese and North Vietnamese were being used to keep the Mu Gia Pass open. The pass, some 50 miles above the 17th parallel, is a key point in the supply line into Laos and South Viet Nam, and the North Vietnamese have kept it open despite intensive bombing.

STRETCH CREWS OUT

The Communists stretch a labor force along railways with sandbags and crude tools. Restoration work starts within minutes after the bombers leave. If the bombers come back, the process begins again.

Most of the Chinese now employed in North Viet Nam are believed to be strung out along the two major rail lines leading north from Hanoi.

Police Seek Underworld Help As Grim Manhunt Goes On

LONDON (AP)—Armed police flying squads made a series of raids early today after a plea by Scotland Yard's chief of the underworld for help in tracking down the killers of three policemen.

Detectives struck at a number of houses in South and West London in hunting for three men on tips reported to have come from the underworld.

There long has been an unwritten understanding between the Yard and experienced criminals in Britain against carrying guns.

Sir Joseph Simpson, metropolitan police commissioner who heads Scotland Yard, said in a dramatic call for help from everyone in solving the triple murder that has shocked Britain.

"Some of the most persistent criminals don't stand for this sort of thing and sometimes we get such help from them. I would welcome such help now."

MEN VANISH

Meanwhile, Scotland Yard kept an around-the-clock watch of the homes of two men believed members of the gang that killed the unarmed policemen. Both men have vanished.

The tip on the names of the two men came while Simpson was holding his press conference. A man was hustled up a back staircase of the Shepherd's Bush police station with his face shielded. He gave a statement reported.

concerning the names to detectives.

Within minutes a detective raided a house in West London. One of the two men had disappeared. He was said to have left home hurriedly Saturday—the day after three detectives were gunned down in a London street.

The other man, whose home in Northwest London was also raided, has not been seen since Friday.

Beatles Mobbed In Ohio City

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Beatles barely missed being mobbed Sunday night as nearly 3,000 screaming teen-age fans surged to the stage of Cleveland's Municipal Stadium.

The show was halted for about half an hour as the Beatles raced to a trailer behind the stage for about 15 minutes before returning to their seats at the urging of police and a disc jockey.

Stadium officials said the screaming fans caused extensive damage to the Indians' infield.

About 100 of the 150 police men on duty at the stadium to control the crowd of more than 24,000, rushed to the field to restore order. No injuries were reported.

China's Forces Static In Spite Of Viet Nam

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—China apparently has not increased its military forces in the last two years despite the Viet Nam conflict and Peking's repeated charges that Washington is trying to provoke a war.

U.S. army officials stationed here also keep a close watch on mainland military activities. The U.S. and Chinese Nationalist intelligence reports give this picture of mainland China's military might at this time:

The army has 2,540,000 men, serving in 36 "infantry armies" (reinforced divisions) and 87 regular divisions. These include three cavalry, six armored, 21 artillery, two rocket, nine anti-aircraft and 17 border divisions. Almost all the border divisions are stationed in Manchuria and Sinkiang provinces on China's borders with Russia.

More than 1,000,000 men are concentrated in east China on the coast opposite the national Chinese strongholds of Formosa, Quemoy and Matsu. Several hundred thousand are posted in south China near the Vietnamese border.

One Chinese Nationalist intelligence source says unverified information has been received that 100,000 of these men have actually been moved into North Viet Nam in the last few months, but are being kept north of Hanoi. This source said the 100,000 are divided into two anti-aircraft, one infantry and two transport divisions.

China's navy has 1,200 small vessels, including 32 submarines. Half the submarine fleet is idle because the craft have been cannibalized to supply spare parts for the other half.

The navy's 211,000 men include 120,000 marines and 25,000 coast artillery personnel. The main naval strength is in patrol-torpedo boats and fast gunboats.

The air force has about 3,000 planes, but about one-third are grounded because of the parts shortage. The regular fleet includes 1,360 Korean war-vintage MIG-15s and MIG-17s and 62 more modern MIG-19s and MIG-21s. The navy air arm has 300 MIG-17s and MIG-15s. The main bomber force is made up of 300 Soviet Ilyushin-28s.

U.S. intelligence officials say the Chinese troops seem well fed and clothed, with good training and good light arms, but weak in heavy material, logistical support and transport facilities.

Besides the regular armed forces, China has militia forces believed to comprise about 20,000,000 men and women. The intelligence sources feel the militia forces need considerable more training to become an effective field force.

ON THE PRAIRIES Freight Off, Plane Down

ELIE, Man. (CP)—About 30 cars of a 126-car Canadian National Railways freight train were derailed Sunday at a track switch about four miles east of here. The train was made up of empty grain cars. No one was injured. Elie is 30 miles west of Winnipeg.

PILOT KILLED
GILBERT PLAINS, Man. (CP)—A civilian pilot was killed Sunday during an air show when his Fleet Canuck went into a dive and crashed near this community 150 miles north of Winnipeg. Wayne Bates, 30, of Gilbert Plains, was one of a number of private pilots participating in the aerial display.

Betty Kirby, manager of the General Foods kitchens, added that of the 250 new food products placed on supermarket shelves yearly, 75 to 80 per cent are dropped before the year ends.

Five People Die Over Weekend

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

At least five persons died accidentally in British Columbia during the weekend—three by drowning, one in the crash of a light plane and another in a traffic accident.

Two men and a youth drowned Friday when their 14-foot boat overturned off Sooke harbor on Vancouver Island.

The bodies of Percy Kabel, 27, of Sooke, and Kenneth Macdonald, 15, of Ruskin, B.C., were being sought, but the body of the third victim Wilfred Christie, 53, of Sooke, was recovered. A fourth man in the boat escaped safely.

Mrs. Ann Butterman, 58, of Drumheller, Alta., died when hit by two cars as she crossed a Vancouver street Friday night. She was hit by one car and thrown into the path of a second, but neither driver stopped. One man was arrested later and charged with criminal negligence.

Floyd Dressler, 31, of Fort St. John, died when his light plane crashed near the northern B.C. community. He was the only person aboard the craft.

IRISH CRAFTSMEN Head Homeward
HALIFAX (CP)—Fourteen Irish shipwrights, the last of 70 who arrived from Belfast six months ago to work at Halifax Shipyards, will return home Sunday.

The men came to Canada under a six-month contract to ease the demand for skilled tradesmen on the Halifax waterfront.

Within a month of their arrival in February, the number of men had dwindled to less than 20. Most returned to their homes after charging that they had been misled by the Dominion Steel and Coal Corp. on the cost of living accommodations and what they claimed was an agreement of unlimited overtime work and wages.

Western Grit Revolt Fizzles Highways, Television Get Airing

SASKATOON (CP)—Western Liberals are still on speaking terms with their national party despite rumors last week they were thinking of breaking away.

After meeting in conference Friday and Saturday, 400 delegates from Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Alberta and British Columbia went home after hearing their leaders say most of the objectives had been reached in an attempt to formulate a western viewpoint for submission to October's national party conference in Ottawa.

And at Saturday night's closing banquet, they heard Senator John Nichol of Vancouver, president of the Liberal Federation of Canada, describe Prime Minister Pearson as "one of Canada's greatest prime ministers."

He said history will recall that Mr. Pearson was "the man in our time who understood problems of the country and held Canada together."

Among resolutions passed at the conference were those calling for introduction of a national highway policy, encouragement of early development of educational television, favoring study of the future of closed-circuit community TV, and asking expansion of radio and TV facilities in the Northwest Territories and the Yukon.

Premier Ross Thatcher of Saskatchewan told the conference the longshoremen's strike settlement in Quebec this summer has contributed to labor unrest throughout the country.

"Surely this conference should have come out in favor of setting up machinery to prevent strikes based on irresponsible demands," he said in speaking to a resolution calling for controls to make sure wages and prices are kept in balance with productivity.

Mr. Thatcher earlier was rumored likely leader of a possible breakaway group, but he later told reporters the possibility of forming a new Liberal group had not been discussed in sessions.

A suggestion that the government establish a publicly-supported daily newspaper died in a panel discussion.

However, delegates approved a resolution calling for establishment of a free trade area in North America.

Prof. Lloyd Axworthy of Winnipeg was critical of delegates for dealing "in a perfunctory way" with important issues.

Speaking to a resolution calling for a balanced national budget, he said the government should not be committed to a balanced budget during times of economic difficulty.

But the resolution was approved.

Two More Bombing Mistakes Kill Nine Friendly Villagers

SAIGON (AP)—Military spokesmen reported today two more apparently mistaken attacks on friendly villages in South Viet Nam.

In the first, five villagers were reported killed and 15 wounded in the Mekong Delta Friday. In the second, four civilians were killed and 35 wounded Saturday in the southern part of the demilitarized zone between North and South Viet Nam.

Two other erroneous attacks last week had been reported earlier.

The circumstances of the attack in the Mekong Delta were not clear. A U.S. military spokesman said it had not been determined whether the casualties were caused by aircraft or artillery, but said the villagers were caught in an action involving South Vietnamese ground forces and supporting aircraft and artillery.

One unconfirmed report said a helicopter gunship was involved. South Vietnamese authorities are investigating.

ABSOLVES U.S. PLANES
The attack in the demilitarized zone was carried out by unidentified aircraft. A U.S. spokesman said a preliminary investigation showed no U.S. planes in the area at the time.

In ground fighting, the U.S. Command reported that a battalion of the 1st Air Cavalry Division clashed in heavy action with a battalion of North Vietnamese troops in the Chu Pong mountains near the Cambodian border, 18 miles southwest of Plei Me.

The fighting erupted Sunday and broke off at noon today. A U.S. spokesman said American casualties were light, and North Vietnamese casualties were not known.

Two U.S. planes were shot down by Communist gun fire Sunday and both pilots were reported missing. The F-105 Thunderchiefs both went down north of Hanoi.

The losses raised to 17 the number of U.S. planes shot down in eight days and to 339 the number announced lost in the two-year-old air war over North Viet Nam. Last week's toll—15 planes—was a record for a one-week period.

Forest Blazes Total Is Down From Last Year

Cool and cloudy weather throughout the province last week kept the forest fire situation favorable and firefighting costs well below those recorded last year.

In the Kelowna ranger district, a part of the Kamloops forest district, no new fires were reported and none are burning. Rain kept the hazard moderate most of the week.

A total of 22 fires have been recorded in the Kelowna district since May 1.

In the Kamloops district, 17 new fires were reported bringing the total this year to 469. Estimated firefighting costs for the year are $51,000.

A total of 741 fires were recorded during the same period a year ago and firefighting costs totalled $269,200.

The hazard in the district was moderate most of the last week.

A total of 104 fires were reported in the province last week, compared with 155 the week before. The previous week's total of 155 was the second highest this year.

The number of fires since May 1 in B.C. is 1,440, compared with 2,201 a year ago. Firefighting costs since May 1 are $476,000. The total cost during the same period last year was $1,823,500.

A total of 123 fires were extinguished last week leaving 53 burning in the province. Estimated firefighting costs last week were $22,000.

The fire hazard throughout B.C. last week was rated from low to moderate except for a few localized high hazard areas in the Vancouver forest district.

Weather conditions are expected to remain favorable this week, keeping hazards near moderate and the general forest fire situation under control.

DRUNKS AND PUNKS AROUND

Another man was fined $100 when he admitted he started a fight in City Park near the children's rides.

A trail youth charged with causing a disturbance by fighting, pleaded guilty but said two fellows walked up to him in City Park and asked him to fight. He said one stabbed him with a knife. The prosecutor said he had heard nothing of a stabbing.

A student from the University of British Columbia was found asleep on a bench in an alley and was arrested "for his own protection."

Another man was arrested after he relieved himself on a downtown street. Mr. Robinson, his lawyer, said the accused had been in the beer parlor and found himself locked out. It was a case of nature taking its course and an emergency.

He said it was time the city stopped inviting thousands to Kelowna without providing comfort stations.

The magistrate said the accused seemed "clean cut" but he suggested the man might have chosen a less public spot and been a little more discreet. One man relieved himself on the floor of a beverage room when he found the washroom full of people.

Another man threw a glass on Bernard Ave. between two parked cars. Police said the glass smelled of liquor and charged the man with obstructing a police officer.

One out-of-town youth who said he was attempting to steal a police motorcycle from in front of the Willow Inn hotel at 8:30 p.m. Saturday but was spotted by a police car near the scene. A youth was arrested and charged with theft over $50 and was released on $1,000 bail.

During one fracas in the Willow Inn beer parlor $39 was stolen from the till.

The trouble was not confined to downtown Kelowna. Police answered a call to the Pine Grove Motel in Westbank at 3:50 a.m. Sunday and found residents of one unit had broken down a door and generally messed up the room. No arrests were made when the occupants agreed to pay for the damage.

Two drunks were arrested at 12:45 a.m. near the Bluebird Bay Resort in Okanagan Mission.

FALSE ALARM

Police investigated a complaint in Rutland that youths were starting a fire but when they arrived they found an orderly corn roast in progress. Police summed up the night by saying it was worse than last year, but they were thankful there was nothing they could not cope with.

B.C. Fiddlers' Contest Set As Twin Centennial Idea

As part of the Centennial celebrations, a province-wide fiddlers' contest will take place this year and next.

Kelowna Centenary Committee secretary J. H. (Jim) Hayes said today the British

Two Kelowna residents, Arthur D. MacKenzie, R.R. 4, and Barry G. Mothershead, 286 Bernard Ave., passed 1966 intermediate uniform examinations. They were joined by three Vernon residents, Wayne Cornish, Frank Robinson, and Hirofumi Tabata.

OCTOBER CAMPAIGN

Record Goal Set For Community Chest

A record $52,000 is the objective of the Kelowna and District Community Chest this year.

The joint campaign for funds of the Kelowna and District Branch of the Canadian Red Cross and the 17 participating agencies of the Community Chest will be held Oct. 3 to 5.

A new 4-U symbol is being adopted as a national symbol for the campaign. The 4-U represents unity, central core planning, dependability and efficient distribution to member agencies.

In this district the campaign will cover the area south of Wood Lake to Gorman Rd. Okanagan Centre to Westbank including Okanagan Centre, Winfield, Rutland, Glenora, the city of Kelowna, Okanagan Mission, the west side and Westbank.

CAMPAIGN OFFICIALS

R. J. Strank is the campaign chairman. Assistant chairmen are C. A. Irish and J. E. Stewart.

Members of the campaign committee include: D. M. Black, the professional historian, John Dyck, business and industrial; Carl Pury, Westbank; C. A. Irish, Winfield, Rutland, Okanagan Centre; Frank Booth, David

THE PINK 'PAINTER' HAS STRUCK

The Ogopogo wouldn't approve. He's a great fan of Regatta celebrations but he certainly wouldn't approve of someone painting his statue at the foot of Bernard Ave. incident this morning and said no arrests have been made. Anyone with pink paint on his hands had better be careful.

Miss Teen Town Lady Of The Lake

Sandi Bearisto Saturday night was crowned Kelowna's Lady-of-the-Lake.

STRIKE ACTION TO FOLLOW VOTE?

A government - supervised strike vote today could leave 171 Kelowna civic employees out of work.

Members of Local 338 of the Canadian Union of Public Employees voted between 12 noon and 1:30 p.m. and again between 4 p.m. and 6 p.m. today. If they vote in favor of the action, the strike could begin in 48 hours.

The poll was to be held at the city hall in the council chambers.

The union refused a conciliation board's report about three weeks ago saying the terms offered were far below those originally sought. Representatives said the report failed to reach a parity with wages paid Vancouver city workers.

City representatives accepted the conciliation board's report. They described it as "reasonable and fair."

2 p.m. - 5 p.m. and 7 p.m. - 9 p.m.—Public swimming.

... lady in waiting

The 17-year-old Sandi represented the Kelowna Teen Town in the annual contest. She won over eight other candidates.

Donna MacDougall, 18, Miss Kwanis, was chosen as the lady-in-waiting.

More than 4,000 people attended Saturday's night show at the Aquatic grandstand. The crowning of the 1966 Lady-of-the-Lake was the highlight of a program which started Frankie Laine and Jerry Murad's Harmonicats.

The tall, dark-haired Miss Bearisto led a march around the Ogopogo Pool after the crowning. She was followed by Miss MacDougall, Miss Ferworn, last year's ladies in waiting and the other 1966 contestants.

Choosing of the Lady-of-the-Lake on the final night of the Regatta is an innovation introduced this year. In other years she was chosen on the opening night.

The only snag in the crowning was a reluctance on the part of the crown to fit over Miss Bearisto's hairdo. The heavy crown slipped from Miss Fer-worn's fingers and almost fell.

The official cloak caused the nervous girls a few anxious moments and prompted the emcee to point out the "shaking fingers" on stage.

Mr. Rhythm, Frankie Laine, sang many of the songs he made famous including Rawhide, Moonlight Gambler, High Noon and Wild Goose.

Pop and old-time favorites, a Latin American song called the Peanut Vender and a classical number by Offenbach were included in the repertoire of the Harmonicats.

The audience, the largest turnout for any Regatta night show this year, helped sing Margie, Darktown Strutters Ball and Hello Dolly.

The two water ballet numbers, under the direction of Mrs. Jan Wood, had a windmill theme and a woman-in-space theme.

Championship and clown diving by the Eddie Cole troupe, a fly-past by the kite man, aggregate awards to sports competitors and a pre-night show concert by the Vancouver Firemen's Band were also on the program.

Cool...

Temperatures in Kelowna and district should continue cool, according to the Okanagan weather forecaster.

Skies should be sunny with a few cloudy periods today and Tuesday.

The expected low tonight and high Tuesday at Penticton, 52 and 75.

The high in Kelowna Saturday was 70 and the low was 51 with 11 inches of rain. A year ago the same date the high was 76 and the low was 49. Sunday's high in Kelowna was 71 and the low was 58 with a trace of rain. The high a year ago on the same day was 79 and the low was 52.

60th REGATTA

Crowds Lower But A Success

Kelowna's 60th Regatta was termed a "success" today by Regatta officials but the financial picture won't be known for some time.

"The Regatta was well planned and carried out," Murray Joyce, chairman of the Regatta Association, said today.

The four-day event was successful from the point of view of organizers and spectators but the financial profit or loss won't be known until all the bills are paid, he said.

Poor weather did hamper some events. Wednesday's wind caused the cancellation of some skiing events and parts of the night show had to be omitted.

"The other night shows went off well and the swimming and diving events were excellent," Mr. Joyce said.

MORE ENTRIES

There were 100 more entries in the swimming events this year than in any other year.

The executive will meet soon to wrap-up the Regatta. A general meeting is scheduled for this fall.

Mr. Joyce expressed appreciation "to the people of Kelowna who made this Regatta the success it was."

Mayor R. F. Parkinson, chairman of the night shows, said the uncertain weather took its toll on night show audiences this year.

People living throughout the Valley were reluctant to plan a trip to Kelowna because they couldn't be sure the weather would remain clear, he said.

Mayor Parkinson said this year's Regatta was "wonderful." Whether it makes money remains to be seen.

"But whatever the financial outcome, the Regatta was a success."

Total park attendance was down by 3,081 people and $770 from last year, but this was within the normal park attendance average, Doug Herbert, finance and administration committee, said.

Average gate receipts of park attendance in the last few years are in the $6,500 to $7,500 range. This year's receipts totalled $6,721, which is normal, he said.

This year 26,884 people paid $6,721 to enter the park. Last year there were 29,885 people paid $7,491.

Saturday's attendance was 8,469 which is down 2,096 from the 1965 total of 10,565. Revenue totalled $2,117, down $524 from the 1965 Saturday revenue of $2,641.

Mr. Herbert blamed poor weather for the smaller attendance.

"Working at the park, you can see waves of people leaving at the first drop of rain. Then when the sun pokes out again they crowd back like a swarm of bees."

The number of people attending the Regatta night shows this year was down 2,898 from last year.

The attendance figures released today are approximate figures and include complimentary tickets as well as the tickets actually sold.

This year a total of 6,863 people attended the four shows compared with 9,761 last year.

Wednesday's show was attended by 739 people compared with 1,905 on Wednesday in 1965.

Thursday's attendance was 1,486 compared with 1,536 the previous year.

Friday's attendance was 2,052 compared with 3,005 the previous year.

On Saturday night, the best attended night, there was a crowd of 2,586 compared with 3,317 the year before.

Five-Car Highway Smash Involves Prairie Drivers

A five-car collision on Highway 97 near Winfield at 3:35 p.m. Sunday resulted in damage estimated at $1,600. There were no injuries reported.

Drivers were R. E. Willis, Kelowna, Dawn Louise Leader, Calgary, Louis Bazin, Portage La Prairie, Man., C. E. Watson, Shaunavan, Sask. and Roy Ramsey, Red Deer, Alta.

A three-car collision was reported Sunday at 5:35 p.m. on the Okanagan Lake bridge involving cars driven by Kendal McDonald, Calgary, Douglas Clowry, Vernon and Willis Young, Saskatoon. Damage was estimated at $200. No injuries were reported.

R. H. Uptgrove, Burnaby and

Raymond Harold Rumley, Westbank, were drivers involved in a two-car collision Saturday at 3 p.m. on Highway 97 three miles south of Westbank. Damage was estimated at $150 from a two-car collision Saturday near the fire hall. Drivers were Harrison St. Clair, Kelowna and R. M. Burde, Revelstoke. No one was injured.

Police said a car driven by Elizabeth Moss, Lawson Ave., struck a car belonging to Jerry Layden, 794 Lawson Ave., while it was parked near his residence. Damage was estimated at $350.

Damage was estimated at $400 from a two-car collision Saturday at 9:15 a.m. at Water St. and Leon Ave. Drivers were Edwin Joseph Rashinski, Kelowna and Frank Ward, Vancouver. No injuries were reported.

Barkerville Show Coming

The Kelowna Centenary Celebration Committee has secured another feature attraction for Kelowna and district as part of the local observance of Canada's 100th anniversary of Confederation next year.

General secretary J. H. Hayes said today negotiations have been concluded for the presentation of the musical troupe The Best of Barkerville, in the Community Theatre, Feb. 22, 1967.

There will be two performances, one in the afternoon and one in the evening.

The Best of Barkerville has a cast of 10 and features Evan Dowie and Candy Kane of the original Barkerville show. The program will consist of songs of yesteryear together with all the nostalgic trimmings of the music of the early pioneers.

This revue was performed in June of this year at Victoria for the seventh meeting of the national conference on the centennial of Confederation.

This production is being sponsored by the University Women's Club of Kelowna, which is taking an active part in Kelowna's centennial observance.

Bids Received For Arena Job

Four sealed tenders for additions and renovations to the Kelowna Memorial Arena were received last week at the city hall. One of the bids will be accepted within a week, city clerk James Hudson said today.

Tenders were received from Braemar Construction Ltd., $23,680; Fred Western Construction Ltd., $34,685; Douillard Construction Ltd., $35,879; and Prehofer Construction Ltd., $44,200. All are Kelowna companies.

The project is about one-quarter addition and three-quarter renovation. Changes will be made in the skating and concession areas on the south side of the building as well as in the washrooms and ticket-selling booths.

The project is part of an overall plan to improve convention facilities at the arena. Total improvements should be about $65,000.

The work is expected to take about two months.

FAMOUS MISSION GETS PLAQUE

Ald. J. W. Bedford, left, and an unidentified B.C. government official straighten a plaque honoring the late Father Pandosy, one of the Okanagan Valley's early settlers. The large sign was put up recently at the Pandosy Mission along Benvenuto Rd. A short history of the pioneer priest and his early settlement is given.

Unnecessary Election? But At Least You Can Vote

The provincial election, called for Sept. 12, may indeed be unnecessary, as opposition-oriented spokesmen have charged. There can certainly be no doubt about the outcome.

The Social Credit government of this province has two years of reign before the law would require a vote. There can be no room for charges that opposition parties were unprepared; the possibility of an election has been discussed publicly since March of this year.

Put aside for a moment the arguments pro and con for a September vote. Ponder the following:

Soviet Premier Kossygin was elected the other day—re-elected, actually. It was, to say the least, a dull election. Nobody else ran.

Mao Tse Tung apparently enjoys the same popularity with the masses, even the most cautious gambling man would give you magnificent odds on the outcome of a vote in Red China. Pause for a moment, Canadians, and reflect on the electoral systems in these nations:

Albania . . . Poland . . . Latvia . . . Lithuania . . . Estonia . . . Yugoslavia . . . East Germany . . . Viet Nam . . . North and South . . . Cuba . . . Haiti . . . Egypt . . . Saudi Arabia . . . Spain . . . Portugal . . . Angola . . . The Congo . . .

The list could run on and on. It would comprise many—if not most—countries on the globe.

They don't have any elections. In fact, there is little or no opposition to the current regimes.

There was, up until, last year, an official Leader of the Opposition in Portugal. They found him a few months ago in a shallow grave. Franco has equally little trouble with Spanish opposition spokesmen. Some have died; some have fled.

What Salazar — he-of-the-opposition-in-a-grave — does to unhappy constituents in Portuguese Angola defies the printed word. . . .

There was an official, public beheading of a government critic the other day in a middle-eastern country. The government film department took colored movies. . . .

The verdant jungles of South and Central America contain hundreds of corpses of other courageous men. Peron wants to get back into power in Argentina. . . .

Rhodesia and South Africa do not look kindly upon anti-government comment. . . .

President Ayub Khan says Pakistan may some day try democracy again—but not for a few years. . . .

There are other nations, not absolute dictatorships, where justice is only a tragic joke. . . .

Greece—where Democrats himself once walked—has had trouble; the king doesn't like the people's choice. He tried to turn the government out of office. . . .

Politics is non-existent in Formosa. Formosa, where the Seventh United States Fleet patrols the China Sea in defence of freedom for Asia. . . .

This newspaper would not be allowed to publish in many African nations; its employees would long ago have been jailed or executed. . . .

Consider these things, British Columbian. Ponder them when you make your unnecessary trip to the polling booth in September.

Dogs In Trouble

Dogs and their habits are always good newspaper copy. One is either for or against them. Most people are affected by them in some degree. Consequently we were interested in the following comments in the Portland Oregonian and, while Portland is some distance away, we think our readers will be interested too. The Multnomah County situation might be a coming event casting its shadow here before.

The Portland paper said: Until a few years ago Portland dogs had much more freedom than their masters, being privileged to frolic anywhere on private property with full immunity against the laws governing trespass, and to indulge in individual behavior which certainly would make a mere human subject to arrest for disorderly conduct. Then in 1960 Portland voters took away canine liberties with a strict leash law, and only beyond municipal boundaries now can a pooch wander at will.

The other day, however, the Multnomah County registrar received a petition bearing a sufficient number of names to require him to place on the ballot an anti-dog measure, covering all of the county outside incorporated cities. Under the peculiar wording of Oregon's dog control statutes, ORS 609.010 to 609.190, only 100 signatures were required on this petition. So Multnomah County voters on Nov. 9 will decide, among other weighty matters, the question of whether dogs shall continue to run at large.

But there's a catch, which may have escaped the attention of some of the gardening enthusiasts who presumably pushed the petition. The basic state law is an old one, designed to protect livestock and poultry against the forays of night-prowling packs of dogs, rather than flowers and shrubbery against the minor depredations of urban Fidoes. ORS 609.010 (2) says a dog shall be considered "running at large" when it is off its owner's premises "without a muzzle".

So what Multnomah County will have, if the ballot measure is approved, will be a "muzzle" law, not a "leash" law. This may not at all satisfy the sponsors, who it appears have approached the problem from the wrong end.

Bygone Days

10 YEARS AGO
August 1956

Miss Doreen Serwa was chosen Lady-of-the-Lake for the 1956 Regatta. Her two Princesses are Myrna Maxson and Elsie Newicke. Judges were Maria Moreau, Vancouver Sun fashion editor; Mrs. Phoebe Smith a director of Vancouver Little Theatre and Mr. Bert Webster, Vancouver. 5,000 people jammed Ogopogo Stadium for the colorful event.

20 YEARS AGO
August 1946

The level of the lake was so high that parking grounds in the city park were under water during the Regatta. No autos were allowed to stay in the park. Visitors got extra exercise by walking several blocks to the park grounds to see the Regatta.

30 YEARS AGO
August 1936

A couple of crooks from Vancouver, in town for the Regatta, posed as Oxford Group members. They were successful in gaining jewelry on a worthless cheque, and got some cash loans from Oxford Group members. Picking up on a driving charge at Summerland, it was found that they were wanted in Vancouver for auto theft.

40 YEARS AGO

The Kelowna High School stock judging team, Nellie Dore, Ruth Stuart and W. Knowles, took sixth place in the contest.

Reserve Policeman's Lot Can Be Made Happy One

VANCOUVER (CP) — The scene was a rock 'n' roll concert and the hysterical teen-age audience of more than 3,000 was getting out of hand.

Between the performers and the screaming mob were several men in police uniforms.

Outnumbered more than 50-to-1, they were pushed and pummeled. It was a dangerous and frightening place in which to be.

The surprising thing is that 22 of the 50 policemen did not have to be at the concert. They are members of the Vancouver police reserve force and they were there because they felt it was their duty. They received no pay.

"It's a self-satisfying thing for the reserves," said Inspector Bud Errington, co-ordinator of the reserve force. "They want to feel they are contributing."

There are 77 men on the reserve force, each putting in an aggregate of about two months' training and working time annually, most of it unpaid.

In addition to crowd control, the reserves handle traffic at large gatherings, such as football games, go on patrols with members of the regular force and study at the police academy.

Each is trained in police methods, use of sidearms, first aid and disaster techniques. They are paid only for traffic duty.

Once trained, the reserves carry pistols. They can be distinguished from the regular police only by the reserve shoulder flashes on their uniforms.

SEIZED BANDIT

"Neither our regular force nor any other in the world is kept up to a strength large enough to deal with major disasters," Inspector Errington said. "But, with the reserves, we have 77 extra men if a disaster does occur."

The regular force has about 700 members. The group was formed as a civil defense corps in 1951 and is under the control of the regular force. All reserves, when serving with the regulars, are reduced to the rank of constable and take orders from regular police.

Among the things in which they are trained are detection and control of radiation in the event of nuclear attack.

Many of the reserves are youngsters who will join the regular force when they become 21. Others are small businessmen who often close up shop when called on duty.

Several have won commendations for their police work. One of them, who was not yet qualified to carry a pistol, chased and captured an armed bandit a few years ago.

"They are dedicated people," Inspector Errington said. "And they get a view of life that a lot of people miss."

"Every citizen is theoretically a policeman, but it never works out that way. A cop is a cop and a citizen is a citizen. The reserves, however, are both."

TEST BY MAIL

WINNIPEG (CP) — Two Winnipeg geologists have developed a technique for "mail-order" chromo-chemical analysis used in checking patients who may have congenital abnormalities, or be mentally retarded. The technique, developed by Dr. Irene Uehara and Manoranjan Ray, allows doctors in small communities across Canada to obtain expert advice by mailing in plasma samples in special containers.

BIBLE BRIEF

"Know ye that the Lord he is God: it is he that hath made us, and not we ourselves; we are his people, and the sheep of his pasture." — Psalms 100:1

TO YOUR GOOD HEALTH

Women Reminded To Check 'Lumps'

By DR. JOSEPH G. MOLNER

Dear Dr. Molner: Please describe the technique used by doctors to examine for lumps or cancer of the breast. If my sister had not known how, she might have lost her life. I think you would do well to remind women how they can check for this problem—MRS. J.B.L.

If you mean that I have not warned readers not to take chances with a lump, I plead not guilty.

Self-examination is the first line of defense against breast cancer, and there is no adequate substitute for it. Women should be checked by a doctor from every six to 12 months, but they should examine themselves at least once a month. Not every lump will be cancer, but every lump should be reported to the doctor at once.

Without sketches or pictures it isn't easy to explain self-examination, even though it is very simple and requires only a few minutes. Cancer organizations (American Cancer Society and others) have free pamphlets showing and describing how to do it. Some have very effective short motion pictures to show at club or other meetings.

I'll try to sum it up in words: The first step is to stand facing a mirror and look for any change in configuration of the breasts.

Then lie on your back. Place a folded towel or small pillow under the left shoulder. Keep the left arm down at the side. With the right hand, reach across and explore the outer half of the breast and under the arm. Don't use just finger tips. Use the entire flat area of the fingers.

This part of the examination is extremely important, as nearly half of all breast cancers start in the upper, outer quarter. Up to 15 per cent are in the second and most dangerous area, the lower outer quarter.

After the outer half has been checked, raise the left arm over the head, and with the flat of the fingers explore the inner half, from breastbone to nipple. Then move the pillow or pad to under the right shoulder, and examine the right breast with the left hand.

Not only lumps should be sought, but also any puckering or thickening, any discharge from the nipple or any restriction of movement of the breast tissues (which could indicate an attachment to the chest wall).

My repeated advice is never to get panicky if you find such sign. But don't delay, either. The percentages are strongly in favor of it being something other than cancer, but have it checked at once. The only effective way of curing breast cancer is to find it and have it removed while it is still small.

Dear Dr. Molner: How does one get "cat scratch fever" and how it is treated? Does it leave permanent after-effects—MRS. E.G.

As the name implies, it is an infection resulting from being scratched by a cat. Cats at times carry an organism, probably a virus, which afflicts human beings. It is a self-limited disease, runs its course in a week or 10 days, and is not serious. There is no specific treatment for it.

Dear Dr. Molner: What could cause hair to grow under the arms and around the sex organs of a 7-year-old girl? She seems healthy other than having some allergies. Does she need medical attention? She has already noticed that she is different from other children—MRS. T.T.

Yes, I think she definitely needs attention. This hair growth suggests a glandular disorder.

Since you live in a small community, your best move is to have your doctor refer you to an endocrinologist, specialized in glandular problems in one of the larger cities.

In Passing

Query to any husband who will take a summer vacation: Has your wife decided where you will spend your vacation?

A guitar being strummed by a person who knows only three chords sounds better than a dishpan being beaten with a tablespoon, but not much better.

On the average the combination of an unsafe driver and a safe car is far more hazardous to traffic than a safe driver and an unsafe car.

"The way to keep from growing old is to work hard," says a physician. It is wondered if the good die young because they work themselves to death.

A large percentage of things which the young people consider "in" should be out.

WASHINGTON CALLING

Hint Of SEC Threat To Canadian Industry

By GORDON DONALDSON

WASHINGTON — An old wound that has troubled Canadian-U.S. relations for a year gave another twinge last week. The U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission published a list of 16 Canadian companies which had not responded to its request for information about their activities. (It also listed 34 that had done so.)

This was hardly a blacklist or even a grey-list as there was obviously nothing shaky about the companies listed, including the Steel Company of Canada, British-American Oil, Shell Canada, etc. But the SEC Chairman Manuel Cohen commented that these lists "would be useful to brokers and dealers in making recommendations to their customers with respect to the securities of these foreign companies."

As the SEC spends much of its time warning the investing public against backroom operators, the list carried the hint of a threat.

Back in March, Canadian cabinet ministers met top American officials in Washington for their annual huddle over across-the-border problems. One was a new SEC regulation which would compel or at least try to compel all large foreign companies whose shares might conceivably be traded in the U.S. to file detailed information with Washington.

CANADIAN SOVEREIGNTY

The Canadians, including Paul Martin, Robert Winters and Mitchell Sharp expressed "serious concern" that this would place Canadian firms under American law.

This, plus U.S. demands that American subsidiaries in Canada obey U.S. laws banning trade with U.S. enemies, constituted an invasion of Canadian sovereignty and the Canadians said so.

The SEC part was smoothed over at the time when the Americans agreed to postpone the filing deadline until after November 30, 1966, which means, in effect, sometime next spring after the companies have issued their annual reports.

In the meantime the SEC requested the companies to volunteer some less-detailed information.

Last week Mr. Cohen announced that about 80 companies, including 34 in Canada, had complied. Thirty-two, 16 from Canada, had not.

He said he was especially pleased that the Canadians had been so co-operative and hoped the others would co-operate too.

NO PROSECUTIONS

What happens next? SEC officials say it's highly unlikely that the companies, or American officials in them, will be prosecuted after the new rules take effect. The agency will merely point out to broker dealers that they won't play ball and leave them to draw their own conclusions.

The companies affected are not those who seek to trade their shares in the United States or want to be listed on U.S. exchanges.

stock exchanges. Listed companies have to comply with American rules anyway. The new rules assume that the shares of any company with one million dollars in assets and at least 300 shareholders resident in the United States will be traded in the U.S. whether the company wishes it or not. Canadian officials still hope the affair can be sorted out before it comes to a head next spring. If Canadian provincial governments tighten up their securities control regulations to American satisfaction, a way may be found to give the SEC the information it demands without direct contact between the agency and the companies. However, Canadian officials have been disillusioned in the past.

GOOD CITIZENS

Another result of that March meeting was a U.S. declaration that American-owned subsidiaries in Canada should behave in all ways as good citizens of Canada.

About three months later it was revealed that the U.S. Treasury had put indirect pressure on U.S.-owned flour mills in Canada not to process flour for Cuba.

Ottawa stoutly maintained these firms were only subject to Canadian law. Washington officials said just as firmly that they were bound by the U.S. Trading With the Enemy Act if they had American directors.

It was all handled very delicately. A wink was as good as a nod to the flour companies. More than a wink may be seen in the Canadian industry to bare their secrets to Washington.

Notes Impress But IM Secret

AUCKLAND (CP) — New Zealand's decimal banknotes are the most impressive he has seen anywhere, says the governor of the Reserve Bank, Gilbert Wilson. But he adamantly refuses to let New Zealanders see them until just before the changeover to a decimal currency next July.

Such, however is human nature that secrecy has served merely to whet the appetite of the public for more information. Pressure for a preview of the notes is growing steadily, and is being resisted with equal determination by the Reserve Bank.

The reason given is that an indication of the designs could encourage forgeries which could then pass the more easily at a time when the exact appearance of the new notes would still be unfamiliar to the public.

The only points so far disclosed are the size and shape of the notes, their color and the fact that birds are depicted on them. The notes will be smaller than present New Zealand banknotes, and generally more the size of Canadian dollar bills.

CANADA'S STORY

Original Parliament Proved Expensive

By BOB BOWMAN

On the last day of 1857 Queen Victoria announced that Ottawa would be the capital of Canada and the proclamation became effective on Jan. 27, 1858. There was consternation in Toronto, Kingston, Montreal and Quebec which had all been vying for the honor. One critic said that a sub-Arctic lumber village had been converted by Royal mandate into a political cockpit. Even John A. Macdonald was not certain until May 10, 1867, that Ottawa would remain as the capital.

The first sod of the Parliament building was not turned until December, 1858, and the laying of the cornerstone was delayed until Sept. 1, 1860, when Edward, Prince of Wales (later King Edward VII) visited Canada, representing Queen Victoria. Even the inscription on the cornerstone expressed doubt. It read "Cornerstone of the building intended to receive the legislature of Canada."

The building itself presented problems and cost far more than had been planned. The original appropriation was $1,000,000, but an additional $400,000 had been spent as early as 1861. Work was suspended for several months while an investigation was made. Meanwhile a number of skilled workers had gone back to Britain, Germany, and the U.S.A. Eventually it was agreed that $2,000,000 would be needed and the work was resumed.

On Aug. 15, 1864 "Clear Grit" leader George Brown wrote a letter to John A. Macdonald protesting that the building was "too magnificent." He said it was 500 years in advance of its time, and would cost half the revenue of the country to light, heat and keep clean. George Brown was wrong about the building being ahead of its time. The House of Commons was planned to seat 131 members, but after Confederation in 1867 space was needed for 181 members. The House of Commons was too crowded until it was rebuilt after the fire in 1916.

OTHER EVENTS ON AUGUST 15:

- 1534 Cartier sailed back to France after first voyage to Canada.
- 1624 Champlain made peace at Three Rivers with Hurons, Algonquins, and Iroquois.
- 1633 Champlain wrote a strong letter to Cardinal Richelieu about the future of Canada.
- 1680 French and Indians raided Fort Pennaquid, near Kennebunk, Maine.
- 1696 Fort Pennaquid surrendered to another French force led by Iberville.
- 1766 First issue of Nova Scotia "Gazette".
- 1818 Robert Gourlay tried for sedition at Kingston and Brockville, Ontario.
- 1821 Sir George Simpson, Governor of the Hudson's Bay Company, left on a trip from York Factory, Hudson Bay, to New Caledonia (British Columbia). He covered 3,500 miles in 84 days by canoe.
- 1860 Ottawa College became University of Ottawa.
- 1866 Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons chartered at Kingston, Ontario.
- 1889 Yacht "Surprise" was first vessel to go through the Murray Canal from the Bay of Quinte to Lake Ontario.

PRINCESS ANNE IS SWEET SIXTEEN

Britain's Princess Anne, only daughter of Queen Elizabeth II and Prince Philip, poses for her birthday picture in a library at Buckingham Palace in London where she is celebrating her 16th anniversary today, August 15. Her full name is Princess Anne Elizabeth Alice Louise. Her eldest brother Prince Charles will be 18 on November 14.

Crowning Ceremony Followed By Gift Presentation Party

By FLORA EVANS

At the delightful Gift Presentation Party held in the Aquatic lounge following the Crowning of the Lady-of-the-Lake and her Lady-in-Waiting at the Saturday night Regatta Show, Mrs. L. W. Preston, chairman of the Queen's Committee, received the nine candidates, their parents and friends, the judges, and members of the auxiliary.

The long buffet table was laden with gifts and decorated with beautiful bouquets of red roses, and Mrs. Ian Collinson, president of the Regatta and Aquatic Auxiliary, spoke a few words of congratulation to the new royalty and of welcome to the guests, then presented Miss Carol Would, Lady-of-the-Lake for 1963 who presented gifts from the Queen's Committee to the newly crowned Lady-of-the-Lake Sandy Bearsto.

The retiring Lady-of-the-Lake, Marcia Ferworn, then congratulated Sandy Bearsto and her Lady-in-Waiting, Donna MacDougall, and offered them her congratulations, saying how much she had enjoyed her reign and that one of her deepest regrets was the ending of the threesome of herself and her two princesses. However, she added, all three girls are planning to attend UBC this fall, and she herself will be representing Kelowna at the PNE. Princesses Susan Aynsley and Wendy Dubbin, also congratulated Sandy and Donna, and said how worthwhile and rewarding the past year had been for them, and all three girls expressed thanks to their past chaperon, Mrs. R. C. Lucas, and their present chaperon, Mrs. C. C. Kieley, for taking such good care of them throughout the past year.

The '66-67 Lady-of-the-Lake then took over, saying how honored and pleased she is to have been chosen and promising to do her best to follow worthy in the footsteps of Lady Marcia. She then presented a bouquet of red roses to Mrs. Preston on behalf of the candidates with their heartfelt thanks for all the guidance and assistance she has given them.

Miss Lions Club, Audrey Gibbons, was then named the candidates' choice for "Miss Gentility" and was presented with an award and Sandy and Bonnie then presented the lovely gifts of silver bracelets, wrist watches, boxes of chocolates and theatre passes and gift certificates donated by Kelowna merchants to the seven runners-up.

W. H. Cleaver presented Centennial Medallions to the nine candidates on behalf of the Centennial Committee, and Hector Turvey, president of the Retail Merchants' Association, presented the Lady-of-the-Lake with a beautiful travelling bag.

The party was a gay occasion with all the girls looking particularly lovely in their formal gowns, but the Lady-of-the-Lake and her Lady-in-Waiting both showed signs of past tears. When I asked what could possibly be sad for them, I was told it was because all the other girls could not win too. I think they all won, something precious, and I know that many firm friendships were formed between the girls during the weeks they have been working together.

Does It Pay To Give Men Another Chance

Dear Readers: O woman who signed herself "Unforgiving in Klamath Falls" wanted to know if it was worth the pain and the humiliation to stick with a "two-timing skunk." She asked to hear from wives who have lived through it. I agreed to print the letters if the wives should write them.

Well—they wrote. I've never had such heavy response to a letter in all the years I've been writing this column. Here is a sampling of the mail:

From Buffalo: I decided to stick with my husband even though I caught him with my best friend. I became so ill I had to be under a doctor's care, but I was determined to keep my marriage together. And I succeeded. How? By giving him the second chance he begged for and vowing never to mention the affair again so long as I lived. That nightmare was 28 years ago. We now have eight grandchildren and a truly good life together. Yes, it does pay to forgive.

Butte, Montana: I'm a wife who forgave and forgot, and I thank God I was able to do it. When I learned my husband was carrying on with his secretary it almost killed me but I decided to put my children's welfare ahead of my wounded pride. We now have a fine family, a respected place in the community and a happy home.

Fort Lauderdale: I stayed with a two-timing skunk and it DIDN'T pay off. I kept telling myself I had to put on a good front so the children wouldn't find out. I learned years later that the children knew all along. They were putting on a good front so I wouldn't find out. I am 53 years old now. My looks are gone and there is nothing but a wall of ice between us. I wish I had thrown the bum out 25 years ago.

Los Angeles: Two can play that cheating game. It's not for men only. My wife used to dream up the wildest excuses for leaving me and the kids at night. Then I found a letter she had started to write. It said, "Dearest Darling: The minute the plane left for San Diego I missed you." No man with self-respect can forgive and forget when his wife runs around with half the fleet. I just hope she takes good care of the kids. They are sweet and innocent. And mine, I think, Morristown, N.J.: I'm a wife who nearly lost a wonderful man to an adulteral, gun-chewing tramp. "Unforgiving" wrote that her husband asked for a divorce just before Christmas. I wonder what the tramp gave her husband for Christmas that his wife didn't? My husband asked for a divorce on my 33rd birthday. I nearly went into shock. But for the first time in my life I took a good look at myself. I had to admit I wasn't much to come home to. I had gained 30 pounds in ten years. I was so busy with my kids, my clubs, my garden and my mother that the house never looked right. The meals were lousy. I was too tired and too irritable to be even half a wife, let alone a decent companion. Instead of calling him names, I accepted my share of the blame and it was I who asked for another chance. We are a happy family now and it was a little tramp who taught me one of the most valuable lessons of my life.

Ottawa: Since you know all the answers, Ann, please tell me how does a wife tell the difference between a reformed character and a worn-out old man? I'm sorry I stuck. Today I'm a nurse and housekeeper.

Dear readers: You've heard only half of it. Tomorrow some teen-agers express their view about a cheating father. See you there. — ANN LANDERS

Airline Hostesses Travel Across U.S. By Motorcycle

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — They stumbled upon a Canadian logging camp, and their small motorcycle broke down on a prairie, but two young airline stewardesses made their way safely from New York City to Portland, Ore., on hope and $70.

"Yes, we did it again," said Michael Gonzales of Portland in telling of the 3,400-mile trip.

Michael, who will be 21 Friday, arrived sunburned and almost exhausted Monday night with Barbara Halverson, 21 of Sharon Hill, Pa.

The girls were stranded in New York City by the airline strike.

They couldn't afford to keep up the rent on a New York apartment, said Barbara, and "Michael wanted to come to Portland so he could be here for his birthday and we also wanted to see some of the country."

They bought a second-hand motorcycle for $275, shipped it their clothing except jeans, sweaters, and sneakers, and started out.

Miss Teen Town - Sandy Bearsto Crowned Lady-Of-The-Lake '66-67

Lovely Sandy Bearsto, 17-year-old Miss Teen Town, was crowned Lady-of-the-Lake '66-67 at the Saturday night Regatta Show.

Sandi, who has completed Grade 11 at the Dr. Koryb Sec. onday School, is 5 foot 6 inches tall, has green eyes and brown hair, and her hobbies are art, playing the piano and guitar, and both snow and water skiing. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Bearsto of East Kelowna.

Chosen as the Lady-in-Waiting was pretty Donna MacDougall, daughter of Mrs. J. D. MacDougall, Imperial Apartments. Donna, who was Miss Kiwanis, is 5 foot 2 inches tall, has dark brown hair, brown eyes and is presently employed by the Bank of Montreal. She was chairman of the Teen Town March of Dimes this year, enjoys skiing, and writes poetry and she hopes at some later date to join the Company of Young Canadians.

It has been very enjoyable this year to see the nine candidates appearing in three of the four night shows and the Saturday night ceremony when retiring Lady-of-the-Lake Marcia Ferworn, assisted by her two ladies-in-waiting Susan Aynsley and Wendy Dubbin, crowned the new Lady-of-the-Lake and her Lady-in-Waiting was followed by a ceremonial parade around the pool, and was a charming sight, and a highlight of the Regatta. and Donna, Teen Town and the Kiwanis Club must be very proud of you both.

Coaches And Pool Officials Enjoy Annual Supper Party

One of the most delightful parties of Regatta week is always the Coaches Supper Party, held in the beautiful lakeshore garden of Dr. and Mrs. Walter Anderson's home Saturday evening.

At this annual party sponsored by the International Regatta Committee, the coaches and poolside officials, those hard-working souls who have little time for outside festivities while making the Regatta events run like a well-oiled machine, get together to enjoy a buffet supper and fellowship before the last night Regatta Show.

Welcoming the guests were Mrs. Ian Collinson, president of the Regatta and Aquatic Auxiliary, and R. C. DeMara, and convening the supper this year were the ladies of St. David's Presbyterian Church who presented the guests with a buffet fit for kings.

Special guests at the party included Robert M. Simpson, coordinator of pool events; Mrs. Robert DeMara, director of the pool events and Mr. DeMara, MC of the diving and daytime events, with Mrs. Pantoni, Mrs. W. C. Jan Wood, chairman and director of the Aqua Rhythms and Mr. Wood; Mayor and Mrs. R. F. Parkinson; Regatta Chairman Murray Joyce and Mrs. Joyce; Judge E. A. Burns of Houghton, Wash., long-time Regatta enthusiast; Mrs. A. Ben-Hamida, Kelowna Lady-of-the-Lake in 1953, and Bill Jennings who creates and designs the very beautiful effects for the Aqua Rhythms each year.

AROUND TOWN

Members of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority were the hosts at the Queen's Tea, held Saturday morning at the Abbott Street home of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Hale. Special guests at this delightful annual event which concludes the morning Regatta parties, were the Past-Ladies-of-the-Lake, who enjoyed meeting the Lady-of-the-Lake candidates, and Lady-of-the-Lake Marcia Ferworn and her two ladies-in-waiting, Princess Susan Aynsley and Princess Wendy Dubbin, whose reign came to an end on Saturday night.

The Competitors' Beach Party took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. David Chapman from 6-9 on Saturday evening where the young Regatta Competitors aged 8-14 enjoyed hamburgers, soft drinks and fun. Hosts of the party were Mr. and Mrs. Donald Johnston, Mr. and Mrs. Victor Weller, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Chapman and Alderman and Mrs. Ronald Wilkinson.

Guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Reimche are Mrs. Reimche's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alex Schick from Calgary.

Weekend guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Julius Kuhn, Bryden Road, was their son and his wife, Dr. and Mrs. Lloyd Kuhn from Canadian Union College, Lacombe, Alberta.

Moving to the Okanagan Valley to live from the Peace River country are Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Oliver and family; from Val Marie, Sask., Mr. and Mrs. H. Shapley; and from Salmon, Idaho, Pastor and Mrs. Fred Wagner.

Mr. and Mrs. D. Harkness, Bob and Lee of Edmonton are guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. Kye.

Mr. and Mrs. Al Stoops from Hawaii are spending a week in the Okanagan. Mr. Stoops was a former principal of the Okanagan Academy, and is now principal of an Adventist Academy in Eugene, Oregon.

Regatta guests of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Walker have been Mr. and Mrs. Roman Perin from Westlock, Alta.

Miss Jennifer Jakeman from Essex, England, is enjoying a six weeks' visit to Kelowna where she is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. George Hillman.

Mrs. A. Ben-Hamida of Paris, France, the former Linda Ghezzi who was Kelowna's Lady-of-the-Lake in 1953, is spending a year in Kelowna, teaching and visiting her mother Mrs. Carlo Ghezzi.

Regatta guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Walker of Cypress, who are enjoying a month's holiday in Kelowna, were the latter's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Taylor of Calgary and their son Michael.

Among the many Regatta week visitors to Kelowna were Mrs. B. Schafer and John and Jim Guild from Edmonton; G. H. Jacobson and Roger and Mr. and Mrs. Horst Irrgang from Alberta; Lloyd and Juanita Sawchuk from Seattle; Mr. and Mrs. G. Bader from Wachau, B.C.; Robert Hapner from Theodore, Sask.; Miss Nancy Fedura and George Butlick from Toronto; Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Evans from Worsley, Alta.; Mrs. Albert Liddle and Mrs. Don Firman from Smithers, B.C.

Mrs. E. Cameron is enjoying a visit from her two granddaughters, Sheri Cameron from Prince George and Dianne Rice from St. Lazare, Manitoba.

Newcomers to the district are Mr. and Mrs. Caesar Nawakowski and daughters here from Winnipeg.

Michael, who will be 21 Friday, arrived sunburned and almost exhausted Monday night with Barbara Halverson, 21 of Sharon Hill, Pa.

The girls were stranded in New York City by the airline strike.

They couldn't afford to keep up the rent on a New York apartment, said Barbara, and "Michael wanted to come to Portland so he could be here for his birthday and we also wanted to see some of the country."

They bought a second-hand motorcycle for $275, shipped it their clothing except jeans, sweaters, and sneakers, and started out.

Year In Europe To Follow Honeymoon To The Shuswap

A wedding of wide interest to British Columbia and Alberta took place on Saturday, August 6th at 3:30 p.m. at St. Andrew's Anglican Church, Okanagan Mission, when Patricia Joan Upton, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. Maurice Upton of Okanagan Mission, was united in marriage to Brian Adair Glanfield, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Frederick William Glanfield of Hoadley, Alberta.

Performing the ceremony was the Reverend Murdith MacLean of Edmonton. The church was beautifully decorated for the occasion with yellow and peach miniature gladioli on the altar and baskets of peach gladioli and yellow anthuriums and the pews were marked with bows of white satin ribbon and gladioli. Organist for the double-ring ceremony was Mrs. S. Daniel.

Given in marriage by her father, the radiant blonde bride wore a floor-length high-waisted sheath of white satin, trimmed with daisy patterned lace on short angel-wing sleeves. A train of white satin, trimmed with lace, was draped from an oval back neckline. The bride's shoulder length veil of illusion net was held in place by a flower of white satin petals, and she carried a bouquet of white shasta daisies, stephanotis and baby's breath in a colonial arrangement. She wore a single cultured pearl on a chain for her only jewelry, and for something borrowed—a blue garter.

The bride's matron-of-honor was her sister-in-law, Mrs. Terry Upton of Vancouver, and her bridesmaid was Miss Marlene Anne Melling of Calgary, Alberta. They were gownned alike in high-waisted sheath models of pale yellow crystal crepe. Their short sleeves were trimmed with delicate white lace, and they wore short white gloves. They carried crescent shaped bouquets of deep yellow shasta daisies and baby's breath, and their headresses were bands fashioned with deep yellow shasta daisies.

Acting as best man was David Allan Durden of Victoria, and the ushers were Terence Allan Upton of Vancouver, brother of the bride, and Dieter George Hedlich of Edmonton.

At the reception which followed at the home of the bride's parents at Brachol Road South, in Okanagan Mission, the mother of the bride received wearing a turquoise lace sheath, and smart pink ribbon pillbox type hat. She wore a white corsage of gladioli and carnations. The sister-in-law of the groom, Mrs. Fred Glanfield, assisted in receiving wearing a deep pink two-piece Italian knit suit, and her accessories were pink.

Master of ceremonies at the reception was W. T. Bulman of Okanagan Mission. The toast to the bride proposed by Norman DeHart, was ably responded to by the groom.

Visitors introduced included E. R. Collins of Vancouver, Mrs. E. E. Grey from West Vancouver, Mr. and Mrs. Don McGillivray from Penticton, Bert White, Al Skuse and W. B. Mackelaine from Summerland, and Mrs. H. E. Sullivan and Martin Granger of Kelowna.

There was an attendance of 16 tables played in two sections of Mitchell movement with the following results:

RED SECTION NORTH SOUTH
First, Mrs. Thomas Hyde and Mrs. J. S. D. McClymont; second, Martin Granger and Michael Schmok; third, Mr. and Mrs. Les Real.

EAST WEST
First, Mrs. D. Allan and Miss Sandra Williams; second, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Holmes; third, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Bury.

GREEN SECTION NORTH SOUTH
First, Mrs. H. E. Sullivan and Mrs. W. J. MacKenzie; second, Dennis Purcell and Warren Wilkinson; third, tie between ed to by the groom, and the toast to the bridesmaids, made by David Durden, was responded to by Terry Upton. Toast to Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Upton and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Glanfield was then made by David Durden. A telegram of congratulations from the bride's grandmother, Mrs. D. B. Upton, and her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. P. Upton in Charlbury, Oxon., was read by W. T. Bulman.

The bride's table, centered with a three-tiered wedding cake and topped by small yellow rosebuds, was surrounded by tulle in which nestled yellow gladioli, and the bride and groom cut the cake with a knife decorated with a white satin bow. Helping to serve at the reception were cousins of the bride, Patricia and Valerie Upton, Miss Louise Stamp of Edmonton, Mrs. J. E. Potras of Kelowna and Miss Jean Fradsham of Calgary.

Out of town guests included Mr. and Mrs. N. W. Trout, of Oliver; Mr. R. A. Trout, of Agassiz; Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Atkins, of Vancouver; Mr. and Mrs. Steve Blower, of Vancouver; Mr. and Mrs. Earl Binns, of Kamloops; Mr. and Mrs. L. Hill, of Penticton; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Emery, of Oliver; Miss Alice Bush, of Sardis; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Glanfield and family, of Hoadley, Alberta; Mr. and Mrs. O. Glanfield and family, of Wandering River, Alberta; Mr. and Mrs. John Rauchert, of Revelstoke; Mrs. S. Nelson and Clifford Nelson, of Hoadley, Alberta; Mr. and Mrs. K. S. Amankwah, of Edmonton; Miss Louise Stamp, of Edmonton; David Durden, of Victoria

North Korea Takes Reins

TOKYO (AP)—North Korea declared its independence within the world Communist movement, breaking with its old pro-Peking line.

Each country's Communist party must shape its policy independently, said the official party newspaper Rodong Shin-moon.

"One country of the party cannot serve as the centre of the world revolution or the leading party."

The statement also disclosed a purge of party members guilty of "deviationism"—slavish following of the theories of unnamed big Communist powers.

It attacked both Chinese and Soviet communism, but the heaviest criticism fell on the Chinese, who regard themselves as the only true defenders of the Communist faith.

The statement signified an almost total rupture in North Korea's ideological ties to Peking. It also aligned the North Koreans with the trend, demonstrated most importantly by Romania, toward independence nationalism in the Communist world.

JOINED IN WAR
Chinese influence on the North Koreans reached a high point when 1,000,000 Chinese "volunteers" took part in the Korean War in the early 1950s. But relations began to cool after Peking and Moscow became involved in their bitter struggle for dominance in the Communist world.

Since the North Koreans, like the North Vietnamese, are much in Moscow's debt, they apparently have decided it is safest to adopt a neutral role in the Soviet-Chinese quarrel.

The North Korean statements accused the Soviet Union of lack of enthusiasm for helping the Vietnamese Communists but criticized more sharply China's refusal to form a united front with the Russians to help the Vietnamese Communists.

Odd Disease Hits Texas

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—What has been termed a "weird neurological disease" has sent 17 persons to Parkland Hospital in the last few days, city health authorities said.

A hospital spokesman said a man, 21, died from the malady with the other patients' conditions listed as from good to critical. Age range of the victims is from 21 to 87, Dr. Hal J. Dewlett, city health director, said.

With physicians here so far unable to pinpoint the nature of the disease, Dr. Dewlett asked the help of specialists from the U.S. public health service's communicable disease centre in Atlanta, Ga.

It first appeared that the patients had aseptic meningitis, a disorder not uncommon at this time of year. However, a specialist in infectious disease at the University of Texas southwestern medical school found that the cases "don't fit the pattern of aseptic meningitis."

Symptoms have included twitching of limbs, stiff neck, fever, headaches, involuntary rapid movement of the eyeball and unconsciousness.

Most patients are only "moderately sick," said Dr. Dewlett.

Admiral Fires Delayed Salvo

HALIFAX (CP)—The "uncensored" version of testimony given by Rear Admiral William Landymore intended to give before a secret meeting of the parliamentary defence committee in Ottawa June 23 was disclosed by the admiral today.

It showed that the fired sea-operations chief intended to support his argument that there was a serious decrease in re-engagement and recruiting, partly as a result of the government's unification program. He wanted to tell the committee: "I am desperately short of the naval personnel required to meet my commitments."

His brief was "censored" and changed on Defence Minister Heleyer's instructions to read: "I am experiencing a shortage of naval personnel to meet my immediate commitments."

Admiral Landymore said he had bombarded defence headquarters with appeals since November, 1964, to read the signs of demoralization and give up the part of the unification program which would see the services lose their identity through a single rank structure and a common uniform. He asked this on the grounds of the "practical consideration of economy and efficiency."

It Was Them, Says Kohler

MOSCOW (AP)—U.S. Ambassador Foy D. Kohler told the Soviet foreign ministry today that a Soviet ship allegedly damaged in Hong Kong harbor may have been hit by the North Vietnamese.

Kohler told the Soviet first deputy foreign minister, Vasily V. Kuznetsov, that if the Soviet ship was in fact damaged, the damage did not come from U.S. planes as the Soviets charged.

Calgary Killarney Swim Club Wins Aggregate Championship

Killarney Swim Club of Calgary romped to victory in the overall swimming events at the Kelowna Regatta, concluded Saturday.

Killarney, just a two-year-old club, amassed more than 600 points to finish more than 300 ahead of second place Arbutus Swim Club of Vancouver, B.C.

In spite of Killarney's fine showing, none of the individual awards in age groups were won by a Killarney swimmer.

Ken Campbell of North Vancouver won the Blackwell Cup for being the top senior men's swimmer at the Regatta. Carolyn Kerr of Montreal Aquatic Athletic Association was named top women's swimmer at the meet.

The Percy Norman Trophy for being the top woman swimmer in the 15-16 age group went to Arlene Henderson of Victoria. Bill Manahan of Vancouver won the 15-16 boys' aggregate trophy.

Two Vancouver Y swimmers won their respective divisions for 13 and 14 year olds. Bill Robertson won the boys' championship while Debbie McConnell won the girls' trophy.

Mike Carter of Vancouver and John Klopstein of Seattle tied for first in the overall boys' 11-12 group. Carter is a member of the Dolphins Swim Club while Klopstein swims with the Highline YMCA Club of Seattle. Another Canadian Dolphin swimmer, Karen Zajac of Vancouver won the girls' 11-12 aggregate award.

Many New Methods Of Losing Found By BEG Athletes

KINGSTON, Jamaica (CP) — How many ways are there to lose at the British Empire Games?

The 1,000 athletes who represented 35 countries at the 1966 Games came up with some new ones.

The gold medal for off-beat occurrences must go to the strange case of Jim Coker of Sierra Leone.

He was eliminated from the heavyweight boxing event because officials couldn't find a pair of gloves to fit his outside hands. Bill Kint of New Zealand, awarded the bout by default, went on to win the gold medal.

Liam Ball, 15-year-old swimmer from Londonderry, Northern Ireland, was watching heats of the 220-yard breaststroke on television when it suddenly dawned on him—it was his event. Officials admitted later they hadn't told Liam about a program change and they let him swim alone against the clock.

LOST IN FINAL

Young Ball churned along fast enough to displace the last-place qualifier, settling off a howl from that athlete's coach. It was all in vain because Ball came last in the final.

Then there was the Canadian wrestler who picked up a gold medal without ever winning a bout and the Scottish boxer who lost without throwing a punch.

Light-heavyweight Robert Chambers of Montreal, a last-minute substitution on the Canadian team, drew with everyone he fought but, through the vagaries of fate and the complicated scoring system used in wrestling, he won the gold because he hadn't beaten anyone but nobody had beaten him.

Jack Kelle, 21, of Dundee, Scotland, stepped on the scales and registered 113½ pounds. But the limit for the flyweight division is 112 pounds—Kelle was out and Frank Scott of New Westminster, B.C., won by default. Scott won the bronze medal in the semifinal.

The eighth Games almost became the "second look" Games.

STOPPED BY WINDS

In the tower diving, Beverly Boys of Pickering, Ont., was leading after three plunges when the event was halted by high winds. Australia and England protested that the diving should be restarted. Officials said no, then changed their minds and watched out Mrs. Boy's head. When it ended the Canadian girl had a third-place bronze medal — behind England and Australia.

In the men's 440, Daniel Rudish of Kenya was placed third with Don Domansky of Port Arthur, Ont., fourth. The Canadian team protested and the officials looked at the photographs — oops, Domansky got the bronze.

There was no second look in the men's 440-yard medley swimming relay. Australia had the gold medal locked up in world record time until two judges—Australians at that—reported that two of the Aussie swimmers had jumped the gun. Second-place Canada was given the gold medal.

The Australians had moral victory, however — they jumped back into the pool and, although it didn't count as a Games win, broke the world record all over again.

Even the marathon, a grueling but usually unspectacular event, had a twist.

BATTLED OBSTACLES

Jim Alder, a Scot, was 60 yards ahead of Englishman Bill Adecocks with the stadium in sight after battling crowds of people, cars and a cow that disrupted his passage.

But Prince Philip, the Prince of Wales and Princess Anne were arriving at the stadium at the same moment. Alder went one way—in the general direction of the swimming pool — while Adecocks went another as the crowds swirled around them.

Alder finally reversed, chased Adecocks into the stadium and nipped him at the tape. Some muttered darkly that Alder had been misled on purpose; others said Adecocks had taken a short-cut.

Said the referee: "Possibly Alder did run a few yards too far and Adecocks a few yards short, but we are not going to let that alter the result."

Teams from five countries are gathering here to participate in the international tuna fishing contest which runs from Tuesday to Friday.

WINS THUNDERBOLT

CLIFTON, N.J. (AP) — Moen Rudolph refused to fold in a hole with Jack Nicklaus and beat the Golden Bear by a stroke Sunday for the $20,000 top prize in the $100,000 Thunderbolt Golf Classic.

The 18th century English writer on games, Edward Hoyle, was considered a foremost authority on what for almost 100 years after his death.

Is Old Style Beer only for the man-about-town?

Hardly. Many of Old Style's staunchest admirers are quiet ones. Men who find their golden hours in the privacy of hearth and home. Old Style's their style, too: brewed slow and easy to match the meditative mood. Is tonight your night to change into something comfortable? Make it an Old Style.

CLOSING OF EMPIRE GAMES

Pole Spot Helps Smirle Win 5-Lap Trophy Dash

Pete Smirle has clearly established himself as the driver to beat at the Kel-Win Speedway. Driving his competition orange car to victory in each of the four races he entered Sunday, Smirle showed some 500 stock car racing fans at the quarter-mile paved track he intends to win the top driver award this season.

In spite of the rain the crowd watched 63 laps of racing in eight events, which included a gag event and a grudge race. Smirle, with the pole position, drove to an easy win in the trophy dash, a five-lap event for the four fastest cars of the time trials. Jack Comis was second, followed by Joe Ewasiw.

In the eight-lap slow heat Bruce Fenton took advantage of his pole position and neatly lapped the field as he took the checkered flag ahead of Ed Fenwick and John Sharples. Sharples was the second top driver in the point standings going into Sunday's events, with 61 points, behind Smirle's 67. Drivers receive a different total of points depending on their finish order in various races.

Smirle was back for his second win in the eight-lap fast heat as he started at the back of the pack and passed all four cars for the win. Allan Wolfe was second and Joe Ewasiw third.

In a gag event, flagman Jack Tordoff of Kamloops, disguised himself in female clothing and with a lot of help from Bruce Fenton drove to some sort of a win, travelling around the track in the wrong direction. Fenton appeared "confused" by the female driving tactics.

HELD LEAD
Jack Comis took an early lead in the 12-lap B main event and held it all the way to finish ahead of Dave Taylor and Len Comeau.

Smirle returned for win number three in the 15-lap A main race, taking advantage of tangles on the corners to cross the finish line ahead of John Sharples and Ed Fenwick.

The orange beast had no time to rest, as Smirle pushed it back on the track for the Australian pursuit, an event open to all cars, in which the last three cars in the race finish one, two and three.

Behind Smirle when all other cars were out after five laps were Joe Ewasiw and Jack Comis.

In a grudge match which does not count in the points standings Sharples and Smirle took a few runs at each other, started the race with a backward lap and tried several times to knock each other off the track before Sharples took the checkered flag.

A total of 12 cars, the highest total since the racing season began July 24, appeared at the track before what appeared to be the largest crowd of the year.

Racing resumes next Sunday. The Kelowna Boys' Club, which looks after policing the parking and crowd control, receives a percentage of the gate.

Blue Boys Win Title

CALGARY (CP) — Shortstop Jim McMillan came home on a wild pitch in the bottom of the seventh inning to give Vancouver Blue Boys a 1-0 victory over Windsor, Ont., in Calgary Sunday. The victory gave the Vancouver team their second successive Canadian fastball championship.

McMillan, later named most valuable player of the championship final series, led off the defending champion's last inning, sliding into third base after blasting a hit into centre field.

Then he raced home before about 1,400 fans as losing pitcher Dick Hames overthrew Abie Scott.

The Blue Boys' win last year earned them a trip to Mexico City as the Canadian team in a world tournament in October. This year's win sends them to a demonstration world tournament at the Pan American Games in Winnipeg next year.

Coast Divers Sweep Titles

Three Vancouver divers completely dominated open diving events at the Kelowna Regatta Saturday.

Nancy Robertson of the Vancouver Amateur Swim Club won two first place standings in the women's platform event and the metre springboard event.

Nancy compiled 86.03 points in the platform event to far outdistance clubmate Sheila Reid who finished with 60.51 points.

Sheila Reid also felt the wrath of Nancy in the three metre event, Robertson executing her dives extremely well picked up 118.17 points to Reid's 89.98 points.

Alan Vaudry of Vancouver Amateur Swim Club won the men's platform event by picking up 82.21 points. Fred Groff of Hollywood finished a close second. Groff won 76.86 points in his dives. Taking third spot was Dick Griffith of Spokane, Wash.

Ken Sully of the Vancouver Amateur Swim Club had a close battle with Alan Vaudry in the men's three metre event.

Sully gathered 109.92 points in his dives to just edge Vaudry who finished with 105.31 points. Jeff Thomas of the West Edmonton YMCA Swim Club finished third in the event with 88.58 points.

Canadian B.E.G. Success Leaves Officials Happy

KINGSTON, Jamaica (CP) — An unexpected bonanza of 57 British Empire Games medals, including 14 golds, has lifted the stock of Canadian athletes to its highest level in 32 years.

The success of the relatively youthful team left Canadian officials optimistic of Canada's chances in the next two big international meets — the Pan-American Games next summer at Winnipeg and the 1968 Summer Olympics at Mexico City.

Leading the way were two British Columbia youngsters, Elaine Tanner, 15, of Vancouver, the new Commonwealth swimming queen, and Ralph Hutton, 18, of Ocean Falls, who proved something of a king-maker at the eighth Games which ended Saturday night.

Between them they won 15 medals to account for more than one-quarter of the Canadian total. In 1962 at Perth, Australia, the Canadian medal total was 31, including but four gold.

Miss Tanner, who took a big step towards being named Canada's top female Athlete of the Year, won an unprecedented three individual gold medals and got a fourth as the lead swimmer on a winning relay squad.

Sh added a pair of silvers in individual events and a third on another relay team which finished second and thus came out of seven events with seven medals.

WON MOST MEDALS
Hutton, who was in the water five times when Australian swimmers were pushed to world — record performances, came out of the Games with eight medals in eight competitions—more than any other athlete from among the 35 competing nations.

His bag was a gold, five second-place silvers and a pair of bronze medals for third-place finishes. The gold was a gift when Australia's 440-yard medley relay team was disqualified and first place was awarded to a surprised Canadian quartet.

Over-all the Canadians added 20 silvers and 23 bronze medals to their 14 gold medal winnings. Only in cycling was Canada shut out.

Miss Tanner, dubbed Mighty House by her team-mates, won her individual titles in the 110- and 220-yard butterfly and the 440-yard individual medley.

In the 220 butterfly she clipped two seconds off the world record held by Susan Pitt of the United States en route to a gold medal in two minutes, 29.9 seconds.

The 108-pound package of perpetual motion also launched Canada to a victory in the 440-yard freestyle relay. Others on the team—which set a world record of 4:10.8 for the distance were Louise Kennedy of London and Jane Hughes and Marion Lay of Vancouver.

Miss Lay won the 110-yard freestyle gold medal and Ron Jacks of Vancouver took the gold in the 110-yard butterfly.

GAINED SURPRISE WIN
Jacks, Hutton, Bob Kasting of Lethbridge and Sandy Gilchrist of Ocean Falls combined for the surprise win in the 440 medley relay.

Every member of the Canadian swimming team reached at least one event and all but four returned home with a medal.

Canada's track and field team also had a productive nine days at the Games, returning with three gold medals, three silver and nine bronze. This, too, was the best post-war performance for the squad.

Canadian shooters won two golds and single golds were won by Canadians in weightlifting and wrestling.

Harry Jerome, 25, of Vancouver, ended seven years of frustration in big-time competition when he won the 100-yard dash; Dave Steen, 24, of Toronto, captured the men's shot-put crown, and Abigail Hoffman, 19, of Toronto, scored a surprise when she won a gold medal in the women's 800 on the final night of competition.

Jim Lee, 30-year-old Vancouver radio-TV technician and relatively unknown in world shooting circles, was a gold medalist in the centre-fire pistol event and former world champion, Gil Boa, 42, a week ago, won the gold in the .22-calibre rifle (prone) event.

TWO MONTREALERS WIN
Robert Chamberlaun of Montreal, a last-minute substitution on the team, brought Canada an unexpected gold medal in the light-heavyweight wrestling and Pierre St. Jean, 24, of Montreal, won the middleweight weightlifting crown.

There were disappointments but these were far overshadowed by the over-all success of the Canadian team.

Little Leaguers Win B.C. Title

Kelowna Little League All-Stars are two victories away from a berth in the 1966 Little League World Series at Williamsport Penn.

This happy circumstance came about when two errors by Vancouver Hastings enabled Kelowna to score two runs, win a ball game 2-0 and win the B.C. Little League Championship.

Kelowna will leave for Victoria and the Canadian championships, Tuesday.

Their first game is scheduled for Aug. 18 when they meet the Prairie representative in the first semifinal game. Friday the other two teams, one from Ontario and one from either Quebec or the Maritimes, meet for a slot in the final game which decides the Canadian champion.

For the uninitiated Little League baseball has been in existence since 1939 when Carl Stolz, an American decided it was high time there was some method of developing good citizenship through the medium of baseball.

The movement has grown to the point where there are little league teams on almost every continent.

Canada first saw little league baseball in the early 1950s.

Since its introduction to Canada there have been two Canadian teams reach the finals in the Little League World Series.

Nick Weslock Of Ontario New Amateur Champion

MONTREAL (CP)—Nick Weslock of Burlington, Ont., won the Canadian Amateur championship Saturday for the fourth time in his 31-year career, but the Royal Canadian Golf Association is still puzzled by his opponent's sudden change of form for part of the final 36-hole round.

Weslock, 48, downed Bill Brew of Wethersfield, Conn., one-up to take the Earl Gray Cup and the title, which he previously won in 1957, 1963 and 1964.

Brew, a deliberate, calculating golfer for the first 5½ days of the six-day tournament, came out for Saturday afternoon's final 18 holes playing his shots quickly, spending little time lining putts and galloping down the fairways at an alarming clip.

His reversal of form so disturbed RCGA executive director Jim Gaquin that he asked Brew at the 23rd hole if anything was wrong.

"He said yes, that he was 'exhausted' and wanted to get it over with as soon as possible because he had a seven-hour drive home ahead of him," Gaquin said.

"I went to him at the sixth tee (the 26th hole) to continue my conversation," Gaquin said. "I told him it was the Canadian Amateur final and that he should make a final of it, I said,

NICK WESLOCK ... fourth title

"with a display like this you are embarrassing yourself." I felt he was also embarrassing the RCGA.

"Brew just looked at me but I think he got the message across because he immediately slowed down."

Wanted To Leave Early

The Connecticut teacher, 18 years Weslock's junior apparently wanted to play right through at the end of the first 18 holes.

He planned to drive home Saturday night and depart Sunday for Westchester, N.Y., where he will try to qualify for the U.S. Amateur in regional trials starting Tuesday.

Weslock, who came out of the morning 18 holes all even with the U.S. golfer, said he had been "rattled by Brew's attitude" from the 19th to 25th holes.

"I couldn't figure whether he was deliberately out to upset me or not, but as it turned out he was just in a hurry to get home," Weslock said after the match.

The Burlington golfer was down three holes at one time in the morning round but evened the match by the noon break.

HAD HEADACHE
He said Brew had asked him to "have on after only a 15-minute break but he had declined to sign of a migraine headache."

The RCGA had the match scheduled for 2 p.m. and a spokesman said they would have held both golfers to that tee-off time even if both had agreed to start early.

After his conversation with Gaquin, Brew settled back to end.

the form that had allowed him to upset former Canadian champion Bunky Henry of Valdosta, Ga., and Bobby Cole of Johannesburg, South Africa, in rounds played Friday. He beat Henry 4 and 3 and Cole, current British Amateur champion, one-up.

In the final 18, Weslock won the 19th and led for the first time in the match. The 20th and 21st were halved in pairs with Brew winning the 22nd on a six-foot birdie putt.

He lost the 23rd to Weslock when he fluffed his iron shot off the tee, put his second into the trees and ended up matching his six of the 19th against Weslock's par four.

Weslock won the 25th, taking it with a five but Brew came back with par three to take the 26th when Weslock three-putted. They both had birdies to halve the 27th and started down the home stretch with Weslock one-up.

AHEAD TO STAY
Brew's birdie won the 30th but Weslock went ahead to stay at the 32nd when Brew counted six on the par four hole after driving into trees at the far side of the dogleg hole.

Brew's five — first birdie putt at the 34th turned the cup and Weslock played for pars and got them, from the 35th to the 36th.

Weslock played for pars and got them, from the 35th to the 36th.

Rutland - Willows Play To Draw Final Game Set For Tuesday

Believe it or not, the Rutland Rovers are a tie game away from a berth in the finals of the Kelowna and District Softball League finals.

This rather odd situation arose when Rutland and Willows played to a 2-2 tie in Rutland Sunday night. Since the semi-finals are based on a point system another tie for the Rovers will assure them of a spot in the finals.

Rutland had to come from behind to garner a tie with the Willows.

Willows scored two runs in the fourth inning and behind the strong arm of Larry Yeast appeared to be sure winners. Hits by Ian Angus and Wayne North and an error by Dick Kitch of Rutland accounted for the two Willows runs.

Rutland broke their scoreless count with a single run in the reached second on a double. The hit which ruined a no-hitter for Larry Yeast was a dubious hit. Four Willow players gathered in a circle and watched the ball drop in between them. Joe Ueyama went in to run for Hoffman and scored on a fly ball to centre field by Arnie Rath.

The second Rutland run came when Bob Campbell doubled, stole third and dashed home on a passed ball by Willow catcher Dale Armeuau.

The game was a tight pitcher's battle throughout. Rover pitcher Arnie Rath gave up five hits and struck out four. Yeast yielded two hits and struck out six.

New England Elegy Art In Boston Fails To Hit Responsive Chord

BOSTON (AP)—Office workers in Boston's new federal building are outraged by a huge, abstract painting in the main lobby which depicts the assassination of President John F. Kennedy.

It's Not Theft Claims Priest

ANTIGONISH, N.S. (CP)—Rev. Philip Land of Gregorian University in Rome said Thursday that when a man in need "takes something he needs from someone who has much more than he needs, he is not stealing."

Father Land, a specialist in economic development, said the attitude of the Roman Catholic Church towards poverty had changed. Formerly, he said, the church held that a man in dire need might take what he needed on the assumption that the "owner" would condone the act, if he knew the circumstances. Now, Father Land said, the needy person is regarded as the owner of what he needs in the sense that God intended property for the community of men. Although the church recognized private property, it held it less important to "common dominion."

HEAVENLY COWS 'NOT LIKELY'

LONDON (AP)—Archbishop Lord Fisher of Lambeth was asked by a farmer if there were any cows in heaven. Lord Fisher, 80, former archbishop of Canterbury, told about it Thursday night in a BBC television program. Lord Fisher said he replied that he didn't think so. "Thank God for that," said the farmer.

Opening lead—three of diamonds.

Claiming tricks before play is concluded is a practice used by many declarers who see no point to continuing the play of a hand where the rest of the plays are clearly automatic.

However, some claims by declarer are not well thought out and create considerable confusion when they occur. In such cases, especially in tournament play, the decision usually goes against the claimant. He is held strictly responsible for any confusion he may have caused, and he frequently winds up with the short end of the stick.

One of the most famous cases of an improper claim occurred two years ago in the Masters Pairs in England. South got to three notrump and West led a low diamond. East won it with the ace and returned the deuce. Declarer had a chance to err by playing low on the basis that West had the king and East the jack, but he diagnosed the situation correctly and put up the queen.

He then led the nine of clubs to the ace, East showing out. His choice of the nine turned out to be extremely unfortunate, especially after he put his cards on the table at this point and said expansively to the opponents:

"I'll cash two hearts, finesse the club, and take nine tricks. Make your own arrangements!" The defenders promptly did. West stated that if a low club was led, he would cover it with the eight, while if the jack was led, he would cover it with the queen.

South had to stand by his announcement that he would first cash the A-K of hearts and then take a club finesse, the result of which was that he could cash only four club tricks because the suit would then be blocked. He went down two.

Despite the outcome of this hand, South, who shall be nameless, finished second out of 30 pairs in the event.

YOUR HOROSCOPE

FOR TOMORROW Keep your most worthwhile goals in mind and pursue them with enthusiasm. If you've had a new project in mind but have hesitated about launching it, now is the time. Be sure that it's a practical one, however.

FOR THE BIRTHDAY Your horoscope indicates that, between now and the end of the current year, you should make fine progress where job matters are concerned. In monetary affairs, however, do not expect too much in the way of gain until 1967. The next 4½ months encompass a period in which you and all Leos should plan expansion on the fiscal front, but do not launch such plans immediately. Preparations for "feathering your nest" could, ideally, be mapped out in September and October when, according to the stars, your inspiration, foresight and practicality should be at a peak.

If your program, which should cover a 2-year range, is a feasible one and you execute it cleverly, you should see the first of fine results during the first three months of 1967, to be followed by another profitable 3-month cycle beginning on June 1st. It will be important, however, that you shun speculation during September, November and December; also, that you make no budget-breaking financial commitments during those months. This is not the Leo's year to risk assets in any way.

Your best periods for occupational advancement will occur between now and the end of the current month, during the last week in September and the last two weeks of October, when you may receive some unusual token of appreciation for past endeavors; also, during the latter part of December, next February and May. Planetary influences will be more than generous to creative workers in December, January, March, May and June.

Look for harmonious domestic and sentimental relationships—with emphasis on the romantic during the latter half of December, next February, May and June—and for a succession of extremely pleasant social events during the balance of this month, in late September and throughout October, December, January, February, April and June. Best periods for travel: The last two weeks in October, late December, January, April and June.

A child born on this day will be endowed with unusual gifts of leadership, a philosophical outlook on life and generosity to a fault.

TRY AND STOP ME By Bennett Cerf

PRESBYTERIAN Life Magazine tells about one board of deacons being briefed on techniques for making church calls. One newly elected member admitted she was timid about invading the homes of strangers. The pastor assured her, "Never underestimate the power of prayer. Before ringing a doorbell, stop for a few moments to speak to God about it."

At the next meeting, the lady told her pastor happily, "What you said about prayer works like a charm. Thank you! I tried it successfully on my very first call. I prayed the people wouldn't be home—and they weren't."

On the screen unfolded a rerun of one of the tough old gangster films, and as the audience slapped the "heroine" across her beautiful lips, from the audience came the voice of an excited young boy. "Why doesn't she wallop him back like you do, mom?"

A resourceful Air Force lieutenant phoned a nearby girls' college to round up some talent for a dance scheduled by his squadron. The dean of women reluctantly decided, "It's against my better judgment, but seeing as how a lot of you boys will soon be risking your lives in Viet Nam, I'll send over fifty of my most trusted girls."

The lieutenant said, "Thank you very much, ma'am—but couldn't you find it in your heart to send over 25 of those—and 25 of the others?"

Britain And European Lands Try To Beat 'Hoof-And-Mouth'

LONDON (CP)—Britain and other European countries are waging a war costing millions against the mysterious plague of hoof-and-mouth disease striking cattle and sheep.

The oldest herd of pedigreed Ayshires in England—that of Eshott, founded 700 years ago—is threatened by the epidemic. Mass slaughtering has resulted but some countries are trying other approaches to check the spread of the disease.

Hoof-and-mouth disease is an acute, contagious infection, marked by fever, which attacks primarily cloven-hooved animals.

Here is a nation-by-nation roundup:

Soviet Union—First reported in 1965, the disease spread to most parts of European Russia. By unofficial estimates as many as a third of 87,000,000 Soviet cattle were affected by last spring. There have been no official figures on losses.

West Germany—No national figures are available but loss estimates run into millions of dollars. In Bavaria, one of the states hardest hit, the epidemic broke out in December, 1965 and since then 12,000 cattle and 9,000 pigs have been slaughtered. In March this year a blanket inoculation program was started.

German control technique is to slaughter whenever disease is detected. A "cordon sanitaire" is set up around the area, all cattle in it are inoculated and barred from shipment outside the area. No transport of cattle into or through the area is permitted. Agricultural officials say the current virus appears more active than in the past and is particularly difficult to control.

Denmark—An outbreak this spring hit 1,000 cattle and 2,000 pigs. All were slaughtered, at a loss of approximately $500,000.

Italy—The disease is taken as practically a way of life by Italians. Slaughtering is virtually unheard of. Inoculation is the most widely-used counter-attack but little is done to quarantine stock to prevent movement. Agricultural experts say millions of dollars are lost annually.

Belgium—Strict inspection of imports of cattle is enforced. Outbreaks have been checked 1965.

Vatican Decrees Put Into Effect

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope Paul today ordered into effect most of the remaining decrees of the Vatican ecumenical council.

The Pope set Oct. 11 as the effective date of his document, which deals with the Vatican council decrees on bishops' powers, the priesthood, the religious orders, and the missions.

Pope Paul laid down rules of jurisdiction and authority for bishops in running their dioceses, directing the priests and religious communities in those dioceses, and in reorganizing the church's entire missionary program.

The pontiff said the new rules would be experimental for the time being. He asked that the national bishops' conferences in countries around the world let him know their thoughts and objections, so that further alterations could be made before the rules become definitive.

The document was dated Aug. 6 but was given an effective date of Oct. 11 to coincide with the fourth anniversary of the start of the Vatican Ecumenical Council in 1962 by Pope John XXIII. It ended Dec. 8.

Outbreaks have been checked 1965.

Slight Reduction In Gap Of British Exports, Imports

LONDON (Reuters) — Britain's trade gap—balance of imports over exports—narrowed slightly in July, figures published by the Board of Trade show today.

Exports and re-exports totalled £423,000,000 ($1,269,000,000) as against imports of £528,000,000 ($1,584,000,000) bringing the gap down to £105,000,000 ($315,000,000) as compared with £106,000,000 ($318,000,000) in June.

The imports figure of £528,000,000 was an all-time record high, £8,000,000 above the previous ceiling of £520,000,000 ($1,560,000,000) recorded in May.

Exports were £64,000,000 ($192,000,000) up on the previous month, at £409,000,000 ($1,227,000,000) while re-exports were £1,000,000 down at £14,000,000 ($42,000,000).

Together, exports and re-exports were £423,000,000 ($1,269,000,000) short of the record £449,000,000 ($1,347,000,000) set in February.

High-Flying Glamor Stock Suddenly Has Wings Clipped

By LARRY DWORKIN Canadian Press Staff Writer

Denison Mines, Canada's recent high-flying glamor stock had its wings clipped this week following a sharp drop in the company's earnings.

Although other issues fared better, they weren't strong enough to prevent major indexes on Canadian stock exchanges from falling to their lowest levels in more than two years.

At Toronto, Denison plunged 9 to 54. The stock, which has been as high as 68, started its plunge Wednesday on news of lower earnings for the first six months of 1966 of $4,568,000 compared with $6,034,000 last year.

The industrial index, a measure of key stock movements, dropped .34 to 156.05. It fell to 155.83 early Friday, its lowest level since June, 1964.

Inco paced the decline, sliding 1 1/4 to 91 1/2. Henry Wingate, Inco chairman, said recently he expects earnings in the second half to be lower.

Other Industrials that were down included Chrysler, off 1 1/4 to 39 1/4, Bathurst Power and Paper 1 1/4 to 27 1/4 and Alcan 1/4 to 33.

Salada Foods advanced 1 to 12 and Slater Steel 3/4 to 14 after Slater announced Friday it had acquired a substantial number of Salada shares for investment purposes.

STEELS DID WELL

Other steel issues did well with Stelco and Dofasco each up 1/4 to 23 1/2 and Algoma Steel 1/4 to 29 1/2.

The base-metal slid 5.12 to 92.32 mostly as a result of Denison's decline. However, Noranda dropped 1 to 52 1/2 after the company announced it lowered its overseas price of copper to $450 a long ton from $500.

Western oils, paced by Home Oil, made the only major group gain. The company recently found a large pocket of natural gas in Yorkshire in north central England. Home B was up 1 1/4 to a high of 24 1/4 and Home A 1/4 to 22 1/4.

Jaye Explorations was the week's most active issue, climbing 6 to 37 cents on 1,642,501 shares. The stock reached a high of 47 cents but tumbled on news that three drill holes on the company's vandora property in the Yukon showed no economic mineralization.

On index, western oils were up 1.09 to 105.79 while gold dropped 2.97 to 184.15 and the TSE 1.20 to 148.90. Volume was 14,390,597 shares compared with 9,840,822 last week.

POWER BOATS ROARING AROUND OKANAGAN LAKE COURSE

Gypsy Too Winner Of Top Hydro Division

The snarling roar of power boats again echoed on Lake Okanagan Saturday as the power boat racing division of the Kelowna Regatta took to the waters.

After the roostertails had fallen and the boats were on their way home three American boats and two Canadian boats had won their respective divisions.

The largest class of boats, the 280 cubic inch division, title went to George Henley of Eatonville Wash. and his hydro Gypsy Too. George hurled Gypsy Too to victories in both heats to pick up 800 points.

In the two heats George jockeyed Gypsy Too into the lead at the start and never looked back as he piloted the boat around the 1 1/4-mile course. In both heats Gypsy Too averaged 62.284 m.p.h. Finishing in second spot was Water Scamp driven by Ben Lange of Seattle and Sundown driven by Frank Schneider of Bothell, Wash. Alouette Angel driven by Bill Allan of Port Coquitlam, B.C., took top honors in the 225 cubic inch division. Allan hurled Alouette Angel to victory in both heats to win 800 points. Allan had troubles in the first heat, having to come back from a third-place position at the start of the race to win his heat. In the second heat Allan got a better start and led during the entire race. Finishing in second spot was Merle Solland and his boat Charity from Vancouver, Wash.

Bob Rouss of Bothell, Wash., pushed Miss Sunbeam to a second place finish in the first heat and a first place finish in the second heat to win the 150 cubic inch class. His point total of 700 allowed him to finish 250 points ahead of second place Rique driven by Bob Bullivant of Victoria, B.C.

Rouss almost won the first heat in the last lap of the race when he challenged for the lead but fell off to finish in second place. In the second heat Rouss was forced to come from third place to win the race.

Gunslinger driven by Earle Roberts of Vancouver, B.C., picked up two second place finishes to win the 145 cubic inch division.

Roberts happened to claim second place in the first heat after the second-place boat in the race, Cariboo Belle, driven by Phil Schaefer of Lac La Hache missed a buoy and was disqualified. The inability of Colin MacLennan to keep Party Girl running in the second heat gave Roberts his margin of victory.

Perhaps the most interesting races of the day were put on in the Crackerbox division.

With only three boats entered in the race, and two men seated in classification there were thrills to spare.

Not constructed like conventional powerboats, the Crackerboxes rise as much as two feet off the water while going around the course.

Archie Parker of Bellingham proved to be too good a driver and as a result his boat Leapfrog Lou won top honors.

Parker took the lead in both races at the starting line and never looked back as he pushed his boat around the course. In winning the first heat Parker averaged 54.417 n.p.h. and in the second heat he averaged 55.881 n.p.h.

Ti-Cats Wait Five Years Then Wallop Stamps

HAMILTON (CP) — Calgary Stampeder coach Jerry Williams wants more offensive action in Canadian Football League games. The only trouble is he's running out of offense.

Williams, who three weeks ago suggested rule changes that would lead to more scoring, has since lost two of his top backfielders. The latest is Lovell Coleman, knocked off by Hamilton Tiger-Cats bruising defensive squad Saturday night during a 21-3 Ticat victory in an interlocking game before 24,765.

Coleman joins halfback Ted Woods and defensive end Jim Furlong, both injured in a 13-6 loss to Ottawa Rough Riders last Wednesday, and end Ham Harrison, hurt in a pre-season contest against the Tiger-Cats.

The victory boosted Hamilton into a first-place tie with Ottawa.

LOVELL COLEMAN ... sidelined indefinitely

tawa in the Eastern Football Conference, both teams sporting 2-0 records. The loss left the Stampeder last in the Western Conference with an 0-3 mark.

The win was Hamilton's first in league play over Calgary in five years.

Tahoe Miss Romps To Win

COEUR D'ALENE, Idaho (AP)—Mira Slovak and Tahoe Miss thrummed to an easy victory Sunday in the ninth annual Diamond Cup unlimited hydroplane race on Lake Coeur d'Alene after wind and choppy water held up the start for three hours.

Co-favorite Miss Budweiser, with Bill Brow driving, placed second overall but highly regarded Jim Ranger in My Typsy failed to earn a berth in the final heat after winning the Seattle Seafair Trophy Race a week ago.

Winner of the Gold Cup Race and national point leader, Tahoe Miss won all three of its heats without difficulty. With darkness falling just as the race ended, Slovak beached the boat instead of returning to the pits and was swarmed upon by adoring fans.

The victory was worth $4,500 to the Tahoe team and Budweiser picked off $3,200 for second. Miss Lapeer, the former Miss Spokane and a sentimental favorite with the crowd estimated at 50,000, earned third and $2,200 with the veteran Warner Gardner as pilot.

KAMLOOPS GOLFER WINS DAITMOUTH, N.S. (CP) — Marilyn Palmer, a pretty 19-year-old blonde from Kamloops, B.C., won the Canadian women's close golf championship on the 57th hole Saturday. She is also entered in the national open title play beginning at the Ashburn Club in neighboring Halifax Tuesday.

REMEMBER WHEN ... Joe Louis, retired world heavyweight boxing champion trying for a comeback, won his last victory 15 years ago tonight—in 1951—beating Jimmy Davis over 10 rounds in Baltimore, Md. The Brown Bomber was then 36 years old.

DEFENCE DOMINATED

The Ticat defence dominated the game, but the offense generated enough spark late in the second quarter and again in the third for two touchdowns by Tommy Grant, another by Hal Patterson and two converts and a single by Don Sutherland.

It was enough to wipe out a 3-0 lead that Larry Robinson gave Calgary with a 43-yard field goal in the first quarter.

Calgary general manager Rogers Leher Saturday tried to plug some of the backfield holes by picking up Willie Ross, who was on a five-day trial with Hamilton. Details of the deal were not announced.

Hamilton didn't come out of Saturday's game entirely free of injuries. Calgary defenders managed to put quarterback Joe Zuger out of commission for at least a week when they cracked one of his ribs late in the second quarter. Zuger isn't expected back in time for Saturday's game in Hamilton against Toronto Argonauts.

Zuger, who set up Hamilton's first touchdown by running the ball 15 yards to the Calgary four, was stopped cold at that point by three players and left the game. The Zuger injury helped lead to Calgary's downfall since Frank Cosentino stepped in at quarterback for the Ticats and promptly passed to Grant in the end zone.

USED PASSES Cosentino also used passes for the other two touchdowns, teaming with Grant for a pass-and-run play covering 33 yards and hitting Patterson from the Calgary 32. Patterson, made a sparkling run of the - shoulder catch on the dead run at the five and went over from there.

Mays Two Swings Away From Home Run Record

By MURRAY CHASS

Associated Press Sports Writer

Willie Mays may be only two trips to the plate away from becoming the second greatest home run hitter of all time.

Mays hit the 533rd homer of his career Sunday in the first game of San Francisco Giants' 5-2, 5-3 sweep of Houston Astros.

Meanwhile, Manny Mota increased his average to .380, best in the league, by rapping three hits, including a two-run homer in the ninth inning that pushed first-place Pittsburgh Pirates past Cincinnati Reds 4-2.

Mays' homer placed him one away from tying Jimmy Fox's 534 and two away from trailing only Babe Ruth on the all-time list.

In other National League games, Los Angeles Dodgers edged Chicago Cubs 4-3 in 14 innings, then lost 12-10 in 10, Atlanta Braves whipped Philadelphia Phillies 7-1 and New York Mets downed St. Louis Cardinals 5-4 before losing 4-3.

Principal In Vancouver Brawl Pitches Angels To 4-0 Victory

By DICK COUCH

Associated Press Sports Writer

Chicago White Sox convinced Jim Coates he was a major league pitcher seven years ago and proved it again Sunday—the hard way.

Coates, rescued from the minors last week by California Angels, beat Chicago 4-0 with a brilliant four-hitter in his first appearance of the season and first major league start in three years.

In 1959, when Coates broke in with New York Yankees, the White Sox were the victims in his first victory.

"I knew I could pitch in the big league after that one," he recalls. "I gave them only three hits, all singles, and we beat Early Wynn 3-1."

But he began to slip and eventually was sent to Seattle of the Pacific Coast League last spring.

There, he won 11 games and was involved in one of baseball's wildest brawls. On May 11 he hit Vancouver Mounties' Richard Joseph with a pitch and the ensuing free-for-all resulted in serious injury to Seattle catcher Merritt Rafter and the suspension of Vancouver pitcher Rosario Santiago.

The next day, Joseph encountered Coates in a hotel lobby and punched him in the face, breaking four teeth.

Elsewhere in the American League Sunday, Kansas City Athletics, New York and Boston Red Sox swept doubleheaders while Baltimore Orioles blanked Washington Senators 6-0 in a single game. The Yankees beat Cleveland Indians 7-3 and 6-4, and the Red Sox unended Detroit Tigers 8-5 and 5-3.

Saturday, the Indians beat the Yankees 2-1 while Detroit bombed Boston 13-1, California clobbered Chicago 7-3 and Washington lost 5-2 to Baltimore. Kansas City at Minnesota was rained out.

Coates held the White Sox hitless until the fifth and never was in serious trouble in launching his comeback bid.

Rookie Jay Johnstone collected three hits and scored three runs, pacing the Angels' attack.

AGEE GIVES SPARK

In the first game, Peters retired 21 straight hitters in one stretch while breezing to his 10th victory. Tommie Agee provided the offensive spark with a two-run homer in the sixth.

Jim Nash, Kansas City's unbeaten rookie, scattered three hits before being replaced by Jack Aker in the ninth and won his seventh in a row in the opener at Minnesota.

Phil Roof's two-run single cinched a three-run rally in the seventh inning that pulled the Athletics from behind in the second game.

The Yankees capitalized on six Cleveland errors—all in the fourth inning—for four unearned runs and the nightcap victory after taking the first game behind Doodley Womack's one-hit relief pitching over the last five innings.

Tony Conigliaro socked a three-run homer, then singled and scored the deciding run as Boston completed its sweep behind right-hander Lee Stange. Homers by Carl Yastrzemski and Don Demeter paced the Red Sox to the opener.

The Orioles increased their league lead to 13 1/2 games over Detroit as Frank Robinson hit a pair of homers—his 35th and 36th. Boog Powell and pitcher Eddie Watt also homered, and Watt allowed only two hits before giving way to Gene Brander in the ninth.

LOST MONEY The St. Lawrence Seaway operated at a net loss of $12,271,725 in 1965.
